INTRODUCTION

The City of Fremantle is undertaking a review and refresh of its five-year Community Safety & Crime Prevention Plan (CSCPP). The updated Plan will guide the City's approach to community safety and crime prevention from 2025 onwards, setting clear priorities and outlining actions the City can lead, facilitate, or advocate for—particularly where responsibility lies beyond local government.

The purpose of the CSCP is to set priorities for community safety and crime prevention for the next five years across the City of Fremantle. This includes actions the City can lead and facilitate or advocate for where control sits outside local government. This refresh ensures the CSCP aligns with current community expectations, emerging crime trends, and ongoing collaborative efforts. The updated plan will build on previous work and outline how the City can lead, support, or advocate for initiatives that promote safety across our neighbourhoods and public spaces.

The updated plan will reaffirm the City's commitments to the community from its 2024-2034 Strategic Community Plan, especially the following key focus areas:

- Resilient City: A resilient city that plans for the future and is empowered to action.
- Inclusive City: an inclusive city that welcomes, celebrates and cares for all people, cultures and abilities.

The City of Fremantle aims for Fremantle to be an environment where people feel safe, with public spaces that encourage people to linger and interact, and places and spaces designed to be actively used throughout the day and night by everyone. As a destination city Fremantle also attracts visitors of all ages, which brings unique challenges and opportunities.

Community safety and crime prevention are complex issues and many aspects are not under the control of local government. Therefore, successful initiatives require a collaborative effort from all tiers of government, stakeholders and the community.

The aim of this engagement program was to:

- Identify community concerns around anti-social behaviour, perceptions around safety, and the visibility and accessibility of the City's safety services.
- Understand what the community sees as key priorities. E.g. increased patrols, stronger partnerships, more cameras, or better urban design.
- Educate the community on the role of local government in this area and how to best access crime prevention and community safety resources.
- Renew and refresh the Community Safety & Crime Prevention plan to meet the needs of the Fremantle community and align with other obligations required of the City.

Throughout this public engagement program, the community was encouraged to:

- Find out about the City's community safety officer service and crime prevention strategy by reading the Frequently Asked Questions and Key Documents on the MySay project page.
- Speak to City officers and share their thoughts at advertised community precinct group meetings and drop-in sessions.
- Request a 1:1 or group meeting with City officers to discuss the project.
- Submit their input by completing the Community Safety & Crime Prevention Plan Survey.
- Contribute feedback on what's working and what could be done differently.
- Provide best practice examples of community safety and crime prevention strategy from other local governments or entities.

This engagement report details how we engaged; who we reached; and what we heard. The findings of this report will help City staff to make an informed decision on next steps for this project.

In conjunction with the City of Fremantle's community engagement policy, and the International Association for Public Participation's (IAP2) spectrum of public participation, this engagement program aimed to CONSULT & INVOLVE the community throughout the project:

IAP2 Spectrum of Public Participation

IAP2's Spectrum of Public Participation was designed to assist with the selection of the level of participation that defines the public's role in any public participation process. The Spectrum is used internationally, and it is found in public participation plans around the world.

INCREASING IMPACT ON THE DECISION
	INFORM	CONSULT	INVOLVE	COLLABORATE	EMPOWER
PUBLIC PARTICIPATION GOAL	To provide the public with balanced and objective information to assist them in understanding the problem, alternatives, opportunities and/or solutions.	To obtain public feedback on analysis, alternatives and/or decisions.	To work directly with the public throughout the process to ensure that public concerns and aspirations are consistently understood and considered.	To partner with the public in each aspect of the decision including the development of alternatives and the identification of the preferred solution.	To place final decision making in the hands of the public.
PROMISE TO THE PUBLIC	We will keep you informed.	We will keep you informed, listen to and acknowledge concerns and aspirations, and provide feedback on how public input influenced the decision.	We will work with you to ensure that your concerns and aspirations are directly reflected in the alternatives developed and provide feedback on how public input influenced the decision.	We will look to you for advice and innovation in formulating solutions and incorporate your advice and recommendations into the decisions to the maximum extent possible.	We will implement what you decide.

The City of Fremantle conducted a series of in-person, local media, and digital community engagement activities to collect submissions and feedback for this project.

City officers aimed to:

- Work with the public to ensure that their concerns and aspirations were noted and provide feedback on how community input would influence the next Community Safety and Crime Prevention Plan.
- Educate the community on the role of community safety officers and how to report safety incidents and issues to the City.
- Work directly throughout the process to ensure that public concerns and aspirations are consistently understood and considered.

KEY TAKEAWAYS FROM THIS ENGAGEMENT

- The City's engagement unpacked that people who live, work, and play in Fremantle require more clarity on the role of Community Safety Officers, and the best pathways for reporting an issue or crime.
- The role of Community Safety Officers is unclear or under-visible. Education and awareness programs of the City's Community Safety program, as well as when to contact the City's officers versus WA Police was highlighted by the public as a key opportunity as part of the next plan.
- 92% of all respondents highlighted that people affected by drugs or alcohol was their main concern for crime and community safety issues in Fremantle. This was followed by anti-social and disorderly behaviour (72%), and homelessness (66%).
- Social media, neighbourhood group chats, and word of mouth are the predominant ways people discuss or share information about safety, issues, or potential crimes. This results in low levels of reporting to the Community Safety Team and WA Police, because community may assume that someone else will report the issue.
- Due to low levels of reporting, a key perception to safety is what is felt in the community versus what data and statistics might be indicating. The community highlighted an opportunity for the City to share regular statistics that help provide a better picture of safety in Fremantle.
- CCTV, lighting, and knowing my neighbours are seen by the community as another key factor to improving safety and deterring crime. There is early interest in exploring a CCTV subsidy program for residents to take up, similar to what other LGAs are currently trailing.
- Police availability and presence of Community Safety Officers was also highlighted by the public as a contributing factor to perceptions of safety in their community.
- There is clear frustration in pockets of the City about Department of Communities of public housing and WA Police response. Respondents regularly requested ways in which the City could facilitate community meetings with the Department and WA Police so residents could address their concerns directly.
- During this engagement, people who had contacted the Community Safety Team within the past 12-24 months expressed their satisfaction with officer's response time to attend to an issue.

DRAFT

HOW WE ENGAGED

The City of Fremantle opened public engagement on the Community Safety and Crime Prevention Plan 2025-2035 project on 11 August 2025 and collected submissions until close-of-business on 6 October 2025.

City officers promoted the public engagement period in the following ways:

Social Media

- The public engagement program for this project was mentioned on the City of Fremantle's Facebook page, as well as its Instagram profile throughout the lifespan of the submission period.
- Online promotion including the social media campaign "Community Safety Officer vs WA Police: Who does what in this scenario?" to educate the community and promote consultation.

Local Media

- The public engagement program was advertised in the Fremantle Herald throughout the public engagement period.

Electronic Newsletters

- The Community Engagement team deployed a "Just Launched" email newsletter announcing the opening of the public consultation period on 11 August, 2025.
- The Community Engagement team advertised this project via its monthly engagement newsletter in September, 2025.
- This email is deployed to over 4,500 people who are subscribed to hear engagement updates from the City of Fremantle.
- The project was also promoted in the City's Freo Weekly newsletter program which is deployed to over 3,500 people.

Community Meetings

- City officers from the Community Engagement and Community Safety teams attended the White Gum Valley, Hilton and Samson Precinct meetings to gather community feedback and hear resident concerns.
- The project team hosted a drop in session at the Meeting Place in South Fremantle for local residents to attend and discuss the Plan.

- City officers attended a total of 5 requested 1:1 or group meetings in the community to listen to concerns and record feedback from the public.
- The project team held a Crime and Community Safety pop-up at the North Fremantle Bowlo for 2 hours, as requested by the organisation.
- These events were attended by approximately 102 people in total, and allowed members of the public to ask questions about the project, seek clarity on the options, timeline and process, and submit feedback in person.

Fliers

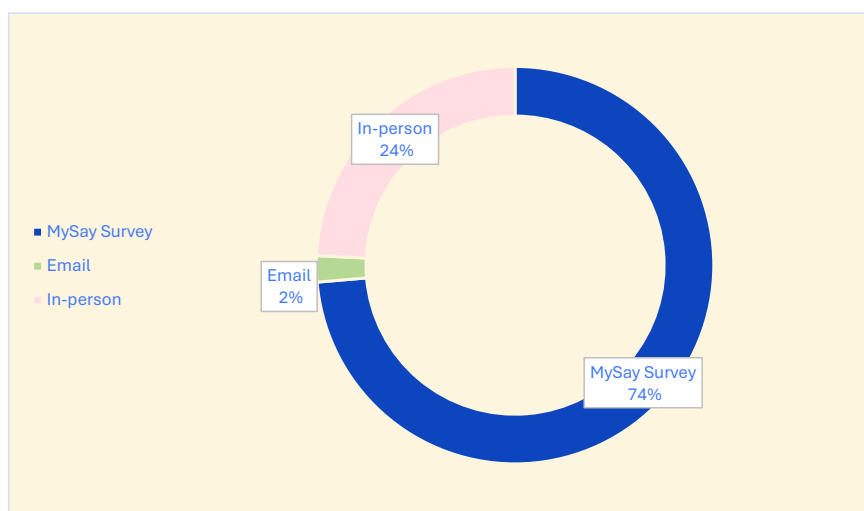

- The project was promoted via fliers that featured project information and a QR code to prompt online feedback via MySay.
- Fliers were handed out to attendees at all in-person community sessions as well as directly to businesses in the Fremantle CBD.

Direct Contact/Emails:

- City officers utilised stakeholder lists in the Community Engagement, Community Development and Economy & Commercial teams to contact, socialise, promote and encourage businesses, organisations, students and staff to submit their feedback to the project.
- These stakeholders were emailed directly and offered a chance to meet 1:1 with staff to discuss the project.
- Targeted promotion through local schools resulted in significant levels of participation by high school aged students.

HOW WE COLLECTED FEEDBACK

What does this data tell us?

The public engagement program reached more than 1660 people through online visits to the City's MySay portal.

City officers collected submissions in three ways:

- The project team received 243 formal submissions of feedback to the project.
- 74% of submissions were collected via formal submissions to the City's MySay platform, or hard copies of the MySay survey submitted to City staff.
- 24% of submissions were collected in person via 1:1, precinct, or group meetings held throughout the consultation period.
- 2% of submissions were collected via formal email feedback sent to the Community Engagement inbox.

This resulted in more than 6,561 individual pieces of information* collected through the engagement program.

Note: 1 formal submission via a MySay survey captures multiple comments and data from respondents.

WHO WE REACHED

Location Demographics

What does this data tell us?

- 31% of respondents were from Fremantle (central), the largest grouping.
- 27% of respondents selected Other (please specify) and noted the following:
 - o East Fremantle (12); Bicton (6); Melville (4); Coogee (4); Palmyra (3); Kardinya (3); Cockburn (3); Hamilton Hill (3); Mosman Park (2); Willetton (2); Spearwood (2); Coolbellup (2); Shenton Park; Murdoch; South Perth; Attadale; Alfred Cove; Manning; Willagee (2); North Coogee; Darlington; Canningvale; City Beach; Bentley; Wilson; Leeming; Yangebup; Warnbro; Inglewood; Port Kennedy; Hammond Park

The significant amount of respondent locations outside the Fremantle LGA demonstrates the broad promotion of the project via City of Fremantle channels. It highlights strong interest in the new Community Safety & Crime Prevention Plan, even for those who live outside Fremantle (but may work or visit Fremantle regularly).

How do you identify?

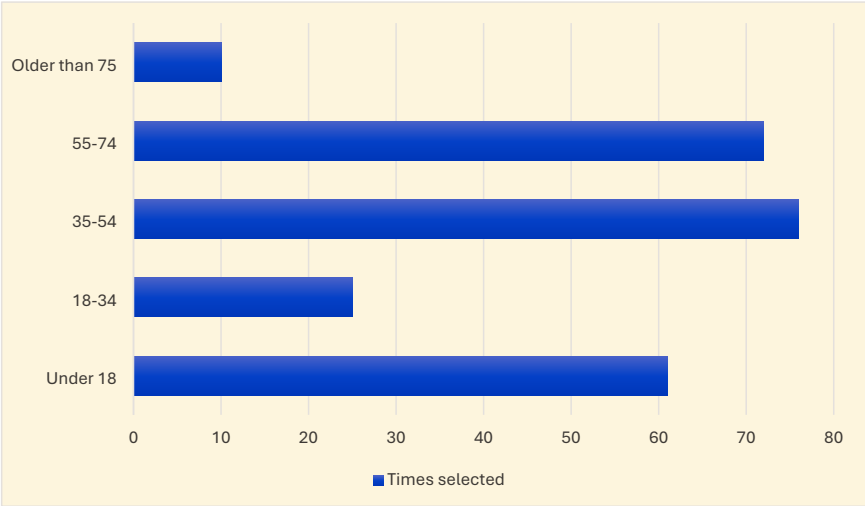

Identification Type	No. times selected
Resident	143
Ratepayer	113
Student	63
Other (please specify)	17
Business Owner	15
Renter	15
Visitor	12

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents were asked to identify themselves through the options above, and could select all that applied.
- Residents made up the highest number of respondents to this engagement program.
 - o Ratepayers were the second highest number of respondents.
 - o Students made up the third largest group of respondents.
- Respondents who selected Other (please specify) noted the following:
 - o Works in Fremantle (8).
 - o Employed at a Fremantle school or university (2).
 - o Landlord.
 - o CEO, Fremantle Chamber of Commerce.
 - o Retiree.
 - o Lives between Fremantle and India.
 - o Ex-resident of Fremantle.

What is your age?

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents were asked their age, and could select the appropriate age range.
- 35-54 year olds made up the highest number of respondents to this engagement program.
- 55-74 year olds were the second highest number of respondents.
- Those aged over 75 were the smallest group of participants.
- The program saw significant interest from the Under 18-34 age category.

Do you identify as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander?

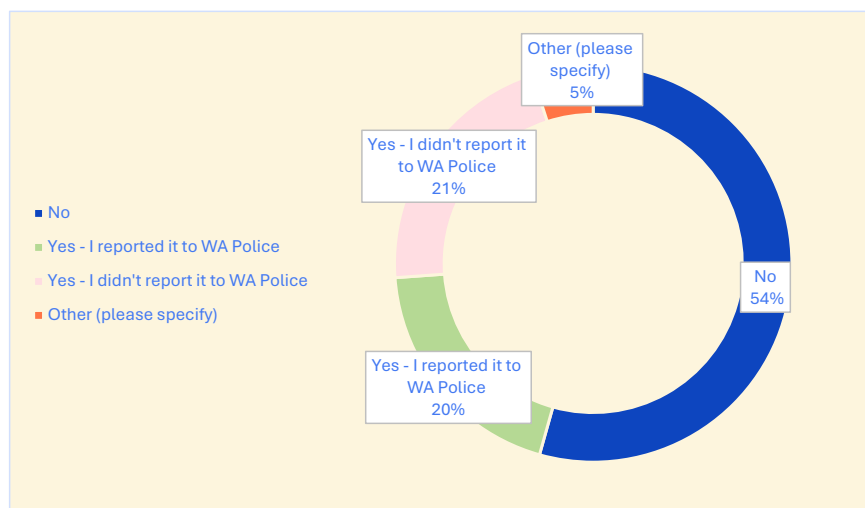

Identification	No. times selected
No	233
I'd rather not say	6
Yes	3

WHAT WE HEARD

Section 1: Reporting Pathways and Information

Have you been a victim of crime within the City of Fremantle in the past 12 months (including your property)?

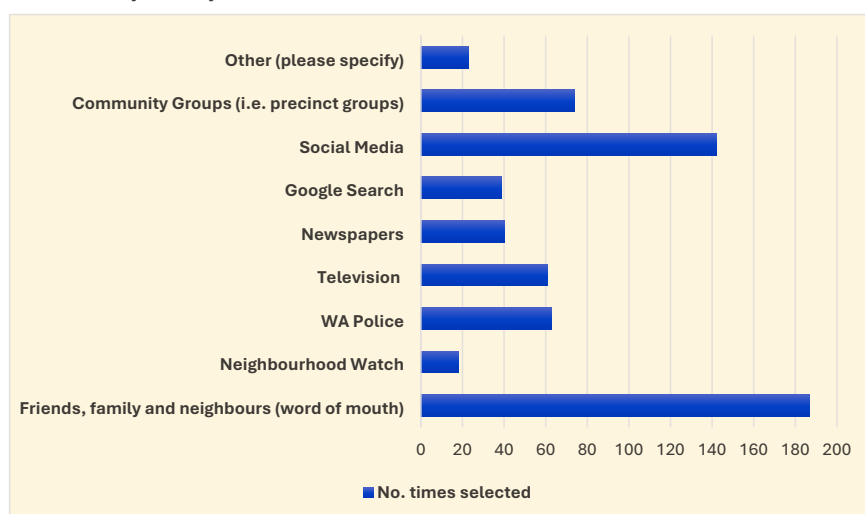

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents on MySay were asked if they had been a victim of crime in the City of Fremantle (including property) and could select from four options.
- 54% of respondents have not been a victim of crime in the last 12 months.
 - o 21% of respondents were a victim of crime and reported it to WA Police.
 - o 20% of respondents were a victim of crime and did not report it to WA Police.

What are your main sources of information about crime prevention and community safety?

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents on MySay were asked what are their main sources of information about crime prevention and community safety, and could select their top 3 options.
- Friends, family and neighbours (word of mouth) was the most selected timeslot by respondents.
- Social Media was the second most selected source of crime and community safety information for respondents.
- Community Groups was the third most selected source of information.
- Neighbourhood Watch was the least selected source of information.
- Respondents who selected Other (please specify) noted the following:
 - o Witnessing/observing in person (4).
 - o News websites (3).
 - o Street/neighbourhood WhatsApp group (2).
 - o Radio (2).
 - o At school (2).
 - o Business owners in Fremantle.

- Chamber of commerce and old precinct groups.
- Local government website/social media.

The data demonstrates that word of mouth between friends, neighbours and family is the primary way respondents source information about crime and community safety in Fremantle.

The data also suggests respondents favoured social media (Facebook, WhatsApp) over traditional media when looking for crime information in their local community.

Do you know how to report a safety issue via the City's online Customer Request Management (CRM) portal?

Reporting Awareness	No. times selected
No	165
Yes	52
Unsure	24

What does this data tell us?

- Over 75% of respondents do not know the City's CRM portal or are unsure how to report a safety issue via this service.
- This data demonstrates a lack of awareness by respondents of the CRM online service, and/or how to use it to report safety issues.

Do you know how to report an issue to Council (e.g. graffiti, hazards, hooning, abandoned items)?

Reporting Awareness	No. times selected
No	112
Yes	102
Unsure	29

What does this data tell us?

- 58% of respondents do not know or are unsure how to report an issue to the City of Fremantle – such as graffiti, hazards or hooning.
- 42% are aware of how to contact and report issues to Council.
- This data demonstrates limited respondent knowledge of reporting pathways to Council when an issue is identified in the community.

Respondents were asked to explain their selections regarding crime and community safety reporting awareness via an open text survey question. Their answers have been summarised into themes that appear multiple times with accompanying bullet points below:

Lack of awareness or information was voiced 53 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- No awareness of the City of Fremantle's online Customer Request Management (CRM) portal or any specific reporting system or formal process.
- Search attempts via the City's website to find out instructions and reporting pathways due to lack of awareness.
- Requests for the City to provide better advertising, clearer communication and promotion of available reporting tools.
- Signage to promote reporting methods (e.g. public areas in Fremantle such as train stations and parks).
- Young respondents often ask parents or teachers for reporting advice due to lack of information.

Absence of follow up or poor experience was voiced 41 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Poor response or no action after reporting through CRM portal or directly to Council.
- Acknowledgement emails after a report is made, when outcomes are not resolved or properly addressed.
- Distrust or apathy with reporting crime and community safety issues to the City.
- Requests for timely, transparent feedback loops to show outcomes of reports.
- Instances of improved experience when issue has been escalated to City CEO or councillors.

Crime and antisocial behaviour in Fremantle was voiced 37 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Ongoing concern about homelessness, drug use, public harassment and antisocial behaviour in Fremantle's CBD area.
- Descriptions of feeling unsafe, being harassed, stalked, or attacked in central Fremantle.
- Occurrence of property crime, such as car break-ins, vandalism, graffiti and trespassing.
- Desire for increased police or community safety patrols and visible presence, especially in particular areas such as Westgate Mall, Queen Victoria Street and South Terrace.

Unclear responsibility and confusion between agencies was voiced 21 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Residents are unsure who to report to – direct to Council, WA Police, rangers (Community Safety Officers) or Department of Communities.
- Overlapping jurisdiction issues, especially around public housing complexes and people experiencing homelessness.
- Need for a simplified, integrated reporting pathway with clear accountability.

Reliance on alternative reporting channels was voiced 18 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Many residents use Snap Send Solve, Freo Massive (Facebook), or direct phone/email instead of the City's CRM portal.
- Preference for calling or visiting the Council in person, using Crimestoppers or the local police phone line instead of the City's CRM portal/digital systems.
- Online community groups seen as faster sources of crime updates than official channels.

Perceived decline in Fremantle's safety and cleanliness was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Perception that Fremantle's safety, cleanliness and amenity has deteriorated.
- Reduced civic pride due to ongoing homelessness and antisocial behaviour in the City.
- Businesses report impact on trade and tourism, with visitors feeling unsafe.

Desire for better communication, education, and feedback was voiced 9 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Calls for broader public education on how and where to report issues in Fremantle, including email updates or newsletters to residents regarding community safety and crime prevention.
- Desire for visible communication of reporting outcomes — seeing reports will reinforce continuing action.
- Targeted youth education: students unaware of reporting mechanisms.

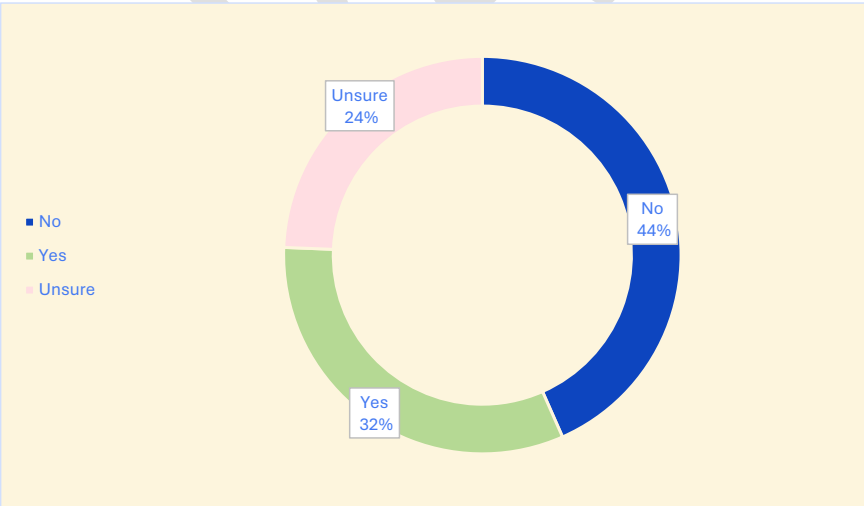

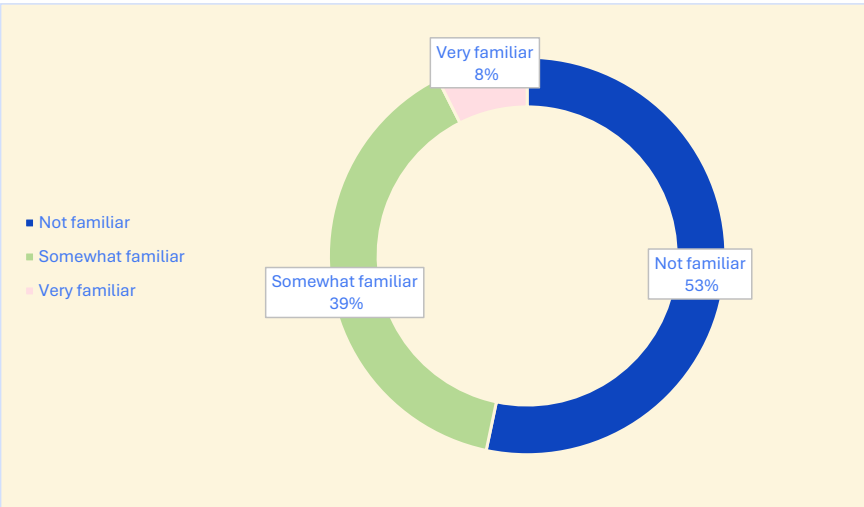

Positive or neutral experience with reporting was voiced 8 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- City of Fremantle website and Customer Request Management portal are easy to navigate and use for reporting issues such as graffiti or maintenance.
- Praise for quick response from City staff for simple issues such as vandalism, dumping and waste hazards.

Section 2: Community Safety Officers

How familiar are you with the role of Community Safety Officers in Fremantle?

Do you know when to call Community Safety vs WA Police?

How often do you contact our Community Safety Team or security patrol?

Frequency of contact with Community Safety Team	No. times selected
Never	170
Once in a while	64
Weekly	7
Daily	0

Which of the following services have you requested from the City's Community Safety Officers? Select all that apply.

Community Safety Team service	No. times selected
Observing/reporting crime	59
Enforcing local laws (street drinking, illegal camping etc.)	53
Street patrols	42
Animal rescue or control	33
First Aid	14
Outreach	14

Respondents were asked to explain their selections regarding Community Safety Officers via an open text survey question. Their answers have been summarised into themes that appear multiple times with accompanying bullet points below:

Expanded authority, ineffectiveness and service improvement was voiced 49 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Perception that CSOs lack the power or tools to take meaningful action on antisocial behaviour, illegal camping or public disturbances.
- Question of value for ratepayers if the Community Safety team cannot enforce outcomes, suggestions that their authority should be expanded.
- Community Safety Officers can only move on problems rather than resolving them, leading to cyclical issues in key precincts (Adelaide St, South Beach, Westgate Mall).
- Calls for training, resourcing, and inter-agency cooperation to handle complex social issues more effectively.

Lack of awareness or understanding was voiced 35 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Many respondents stated they were unaware of the existence of Community Safety Officers or their functions or were unsure when and why to contact them.
- Lack of prior communication or education from the City about how to reach or engage with the Community Safety Officers and team.
- Interest expressed for receiving clear, accessible information — e.g. a one-page guide or contact directory outlining responsibilities (CSO versus WAPOL) and escalation pathways.

Reporting pathways and responsibilities was voiced 27 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

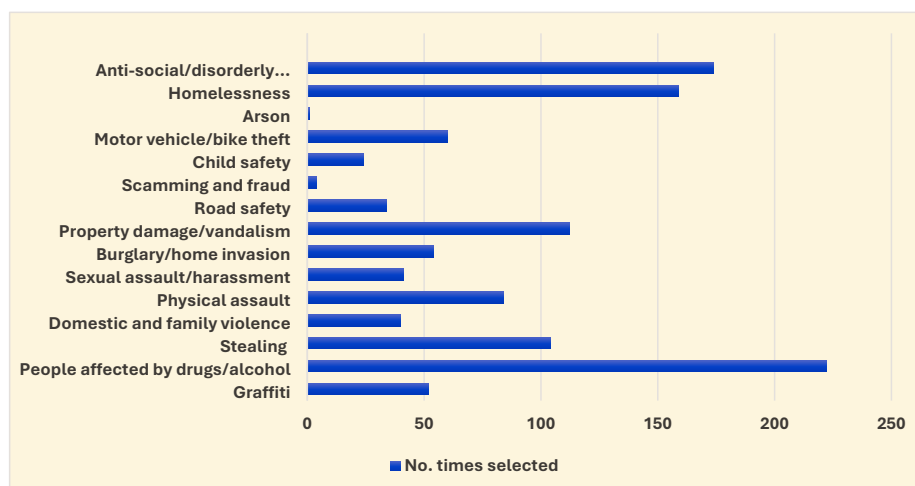

- Uncertainty about who to contact (Police, CSOs, or other organisations/providers) for issues such as dog noise, rough sleeping, or vandalism.
- Frustration with complex reporting systems, excessive website clutter, or slow feedback loops when lodging reports.

Section 3: Perceptions and Experiences of Safety

Respondents were asked to consider their feelings of safety in Fremantle or their local neighbourhood, where they felt safe or unsafe and what might impact their perceptions of crime or personal safety.

What are the top crime and community safety issues in Fremantle?

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents on MySay were asked to identify what they feel are the top crime and community safety issues in Fremantle, and could select their top 5 options.
- People affected by drugs or alcohol was the most highlighted community safety issue in Fremantle, selected by 92% of all respondents.
 - o Anti-social/disorderly behaviour was the second most selected crime and community safety issue, selected by 72% of all respondents.
 - o Homelessness was the third highest ranked issue in Fremantle, selected by 66% of all respondents.

Respondents were asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their answers have been summarised into themes that appear multiple times with accompanying bullet points below:

Drug and alcohol use was voiced 66 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Viewed as the primary driver of the majority of antisocial behaviour, crime, theft, intimidation, and general community unease in Fremantle.
- Open drug use, dealing and discarded syringes in Fremantle's public areas (parks, laneways, near schools, playgrounds etc.) pose constant safety and health risks.
- Frequent encounters with individuals exhibiting erratic or violent behaviour while under the influence creates environment of anxiety and fear.
- Visible policing, stricter enforcement, and increased rehabilitation and outreach services essential to tackle issue.

Homelessness and social disorder was voiced 49 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Perception of general social disorder and chaos in the CBD caused by increased visibility of people, experiencing homelessness and mental illness.
- Rough sleeping, loitering, and begging in commercial and residential areas of Fremantle create discomfort, especially for women, elderly people, and families.
- Feeling unsafe and intimidated while walking, shopping, or using public transport.
- Need for compassionate, coordinated interventions addressing housing, addiction and mental health, rather than punitive measures.

Theft and property crime was voiced 28 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Car break-ins, bike theft, and garage burglaries occur routinely in certain areas of Fremantle.
- Businesses experience theft and loitering from drug-affected individuals, impacting operations and staff safety.
- Petty and opportunistic theft cause financial losses and disruption for local businesses.

Policing, fear and perception of safety was voiced 22 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Visible safety presence and cleaner, better-lit public spaces identified as key to rebuilding community confidence.
- Requests for regular police patrols, public reporting hotlines, and shared accountability across government levels.

- Recognition fear often outweighs statistical crime data, indicating need for perceptual and environmental reassurance measures in the community.

Road and pedestrian safety was voiced 12 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Unsafe pedestrian crossings, speeding e-bikes/scooters and poor street lighting at night make walking in parts of Fremantle feel unsafe.
- Lack of street activity at night increases feelings of isolation and vulnerability, especially for elderly people.

Graffiti, vandalism and environmental neglect was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Unkempt verges, excess litter and graffiti in public spaces make areas feel unsafe and uncared for, encourages antisocial behaviour.
- Recognition of difference between street art and tagging, support expressed for targeted clean-up and offender restitution initiatives.

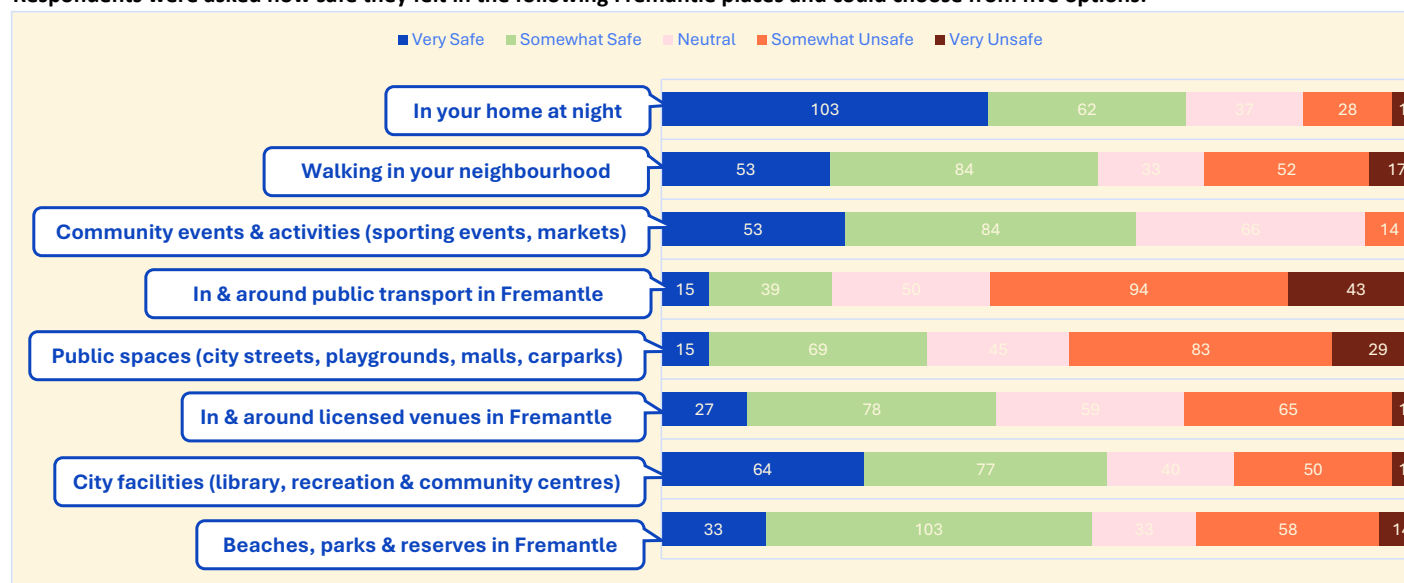

Mental health and social services was voiced 10 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Calls for increased mental health support, crisis intervention, and trauma-informed responses.
- Prioritising outreach service presence (e.g. Street Doctor vans, mental health teams) in easily accessible public spaces and holistic support models over policing alone.

Experience and perceptions of safety in Fremantle.

Respondents were asked how safe they felt in the following Fremantle places and could choose from five options:

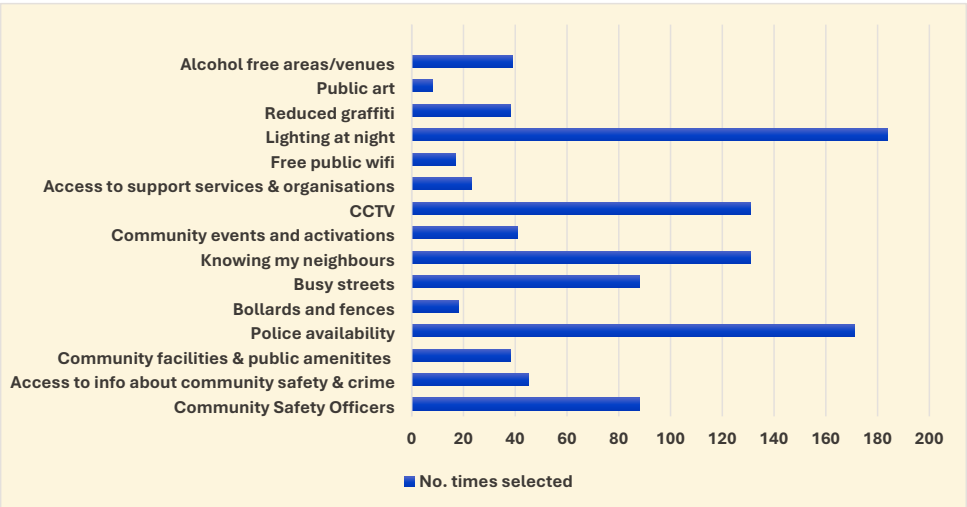

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents on MySay were asked how safe they felt in various Fremantle places and could choose from five options, ranging from 'very safe' to 'very unsafe.'
- Places where respondents felt most safe in Fremantle:
 - o At community events and activities (e.g. sporting events, markets).
 - o In their home at night.
 - o Walking in their neighbourhood.
- Places where respondents felt least safe in Fremantle:
 - o In and around public transport in Fremantle.
 - o Public spaces (city streets, playgrounds, malls, carpark, entertainment/shopping precincts)
 - o In and around licensed venues in Fremantle.

What factors most affect how safe you feel in your community?

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents on MySay were asked what factors affect how safe they feel in their community, and could select their top 5 options.
- Lighting at night was the most selected factor that affected how safe respondents felt in their community.
 - o Police availability was the second most selected factor contributing to respondent perceptions of safety in their community.
 - o Knowing my neighbours and CCTV were the fourth most selected factor affecting respondent feelings of safety.

Respondents were asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their answers have been summarised into themes that appear multiple times with accompanying bullet points below:

Antisocial behaviour, crime and substance use was voiced 71 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Widespread concern about public intoxication, drug use, harassment, aggression, vandalism, and theft.
- Regular exposure to “shouty” or aggressive individuals near transport hubs, malls, and public spaces in the CBD, leading to fear and avoidance.
- Repeat offenders and perceived lack of consequences for criminal behaviour contribute to a sense of lawlessness.
- Visible antisocial behaviour linked to reduced perceptions of safety both day and night for those visiting central Fremantle.
- Frustration with perceived tolerance for such behaviours and lack of visible enforcement by Community Safety Officers or WA Police.

Lighting, urban design and environmental maintenance was voiced 61 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Poor or inconsistent lighting in parks, side streets, and walkways is a key factor in feeling unsafe, especially for women and older residents.
- Respondents referenced CPTED principles (visibility, natural surveillance, sight lines, and well-maintained spaces) as essential for improving safety.
- Increased maintenance and cleanliness (e.g. graffiti, litter, damaged pavements) would increase perceptions of safety and civic pride.
- Specific unlit or poorly lit areas (e.g. Walyalup Koort, Queen Victoria Street, White Gum Valley precinct) listed as deterrents to walking at night.
- Overgrown trees, uneven paths, and neglected infrastructure contribute to perceived vulnerability in Fremantle after dark.

Police and community safety presence was voiced 55 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Strong desire for visible proactive policing or patrols, particularly during evenings and early mornings.
- Slow or non-existent police response times and uncertainty expressed about the role of community safety officers when incidents occur.
- Requests for more foot patrols, stronger coordination and collaboration between police and the City, and firmer enforcement against repeat offenders.
- Temporary CCTV or visible patrols as effective deterrents when implemented.

Homelessness, social housing, and complex social needs was voiced 42 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Recognition that complex social needs underlie many public disturbances in Fremantle, yet frustration with perceived inaction or tolerance of antisocial conduct.
- Better coordination between policing, social services and housing agencies to manage behaviours and provide support.
- Perceived safety decline attributed to growth in public housing in parts of central Fremantle without sufficient accompanying support services.
- Concentration of vulnerable people around St Patrick's, Westgate Mall, and public buildings contributes to constant visibility of antisocial issues.
- Recognition of the need for balanced approaches combining compassion with enforcement and social management.

Community cohesion and Neighbourhood Watch was voiced 26 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Knowing neighbours and maintaining active, watchful communities were key to feeling safe.
- Informal networks and community groups often viewed as faster and more reliable than formal channels of reporting issues with crime.
- The City should look to strengthen local safety communication through Neighbourhood Watch initiatives or online updates via their media channels.
- Positive neighbourly social interactions and engaged "eyes on the street" seen as natural deterrents to crime.

Public realm activation and urban maintenance was voiced 21 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Vibrant, active, well-used streets deter antisocial behaviour, diminish fear and build local pride.
- Graffiti, litter, and general neglect cited as visual indicators of crime and disorder in Fremantle's urban centre.
- Faster graffiti removal response and creation of a dedicated anti-graffiti response team.
- Clean, well-maintained environments viewed as core to restoring civic confidence and discouraging antisocial activity.

CCTV, security measures and deterrence was voiced 18 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Support for expanded CCTV coverage in identified problem areas, particularly malls, transit nodes and parks in central and South Fremantle.
- Temporary CCTV installations had demonstrably reduced crime or nuisance behaviour in areas such as Westgate Mall and Bellevue Terrace.
- Surveillance and security systems (whether City-led or personal/at home) viewed as both a crime prevention tool and a reassurance mechanism.

Alcohol-related issues was voiced 12 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Alcohol abuse and density of liquor outlets and hospitality venues were linked to public disorder and violence, especially in Fremantle's nightlife zone.
- Suggestion to limit liquor licenses, enforce earlier closing hours, and stronger policing of intoxicated behaviour.

Which of the following personal factors impact on your feelings of safety?

Personal factor impacting feeling of safety	No. times selected
Gender	138
Age	109
Cultural differences	55
Other (please specify)	51
Living arrangements	35

What does this data tell us?

- Respondents on MySay were asked what personal factors contributed to their feelings of safety, and could select all options that applied.
- Gender was the most important factor that influenced feelings of safety for respondents.
- Age was the second highest rated factor that influences feelings of safety for respondents.

Respondents were asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their answers have been summarised into themes that appear multiple times with accompanying bullet points below:

Gender and vulnerability was voiced 58 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Female identifying respondents describe feeling inherently more vulnerable to physical and sexual assault, intimidation, and harassment in public spaces.
- Reports of catcalling, verbal abuse, and unwanted approaches by men—especially by individuals perceived to be intoxicated or affected by drugs or at licensed venues Fremantle.
- Female respondents report heightened vigilance (avoiding walking alone at night, planning routes, avoiding certain areas).
- Repeated comments that men can “weaponise intimidation” and that women feel “targeted” or “easy prey.”
- Strong sentiment that gender inequality and entrenched cultural attitudes towards women are endemic contributors to fear and risk.

Age and physical capability was voiced 41 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Older respondents note reduced mobility, slower walking pace, and inability to defend themselves contributes to feelings of fear in public spaces.
- Poor lighting, uneven paths, and cyclists/scooters riding on footpaths amplify anxiety.
- Younger respondents, particularly teenage girls, describe being sexualised or harassed in public spaces.
- A sense of “age-based vulnerability” expressed for both elderly (physical frailty) and young respondents (lack of authority or protection).

Drug and alcohol related antisocial behaviour was voiced 27 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Public drug and alcohol use viewed as primary threats to personal safety and as amplifiers of all other vulnerabilities.
- Some older males express confidence in defending themselves with drug or alcohol affected offenders, highlighting perceived gendered and age-based differences in safety experiences.
- Fear extends beyond physical harm to constant unease and avoidance behaviour (avoiding certain areas, walking in daylight only).

Cultural and social dynamics was voiced 8 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- LGBTQIA+ respondents (particularly gay and trans individuals) report harassment and verbal abuse in public spaces, especially in the CBD.

The City of Fremantle acknowledges the Whadjuk people as the Traditional Owners of the greater Walyalup/Fremantle area and we recognise that their cultural and heritage beliefs are still important today.

Introduction

The City of Fremantle is committed to nurturing a safe, inclusive, and vibrant environment for everyone who lives, works, visits, or does business in the area. Recognising that feeling safe in public spaces is essential to wellbeing and active participation in community life, the Community Safety and Crime Prevention Plan 2026 to 2031 sets a clear direction for the City's approach over the next five years.

As a destination city with a diverse population and significant visitor activity, Fremantle faces unique and evolving safety challenges. Building on the 2019 to 2024 Plan, this updated framework reinforces the City's long-term commitment to reducing crime and antisocial behaviour, improving perceptions of safety, and strengthening community resilience.

The Plan outlines how the City can lead, support, or advocate for initiatives that make public spaces more welcoming, better designed, and actively used throughout the day and night. Recognising that safety extends beyond enforcement alone, the Plan emphasises inclusive urban environments, well-maintained infrastructure, improved lighting and signage, and support for vulnerable groups.

Central to this Plan is the understanding that community safety is a shared responsibility requiring strong partnerships, proactive engagement, and collaboration across sectors. Over the next five years, the Plan will guide clear priorities focused on urban design, activation of public spaces, community programs, responsible behaviour and effective communication. Through this collective approach, the City seeks to ensure that all who experience Fremantle feel safe, respected and connected.

Community Safety & Crime Prevention in Fremantle

The City of Fremantle's Community Safety Team includes multiple

- Community Safety Officers who patrol seven days a week, with services operating until 2.00am on most nights.
- Full time CCTV Officers who monitor more than 200 cameras across the city almost 24 hours a day.
- Parking Officers which also support community safety through their visible presence and by providing information to the City's Control Room.

Over the past five years, the Community Safety Team has responded to more than 1,500 incidents of antisocial behaviour. Officers regularly engage with people experiencing homelessness, providing support, referrals to outreach services and education, while ensuring compliance with local laws.

Connection to Strategic Plan

This Community Safety and Crime Prevention Plan does not stand alone. It aligns with and supports other City plans. Its delivery is guided by complementary strategies that work together to achieve shared goals.

The updated plan will reaffirm the City's commitments outlined in the 2024 to 2034 Strategic Community Plan, particularly the following key focus areas:

- Resilient City: A resilient city that plans for the future and is empowered to action.
- Inclusive City: an inclusive city that welcomes, celebrates and cares for all people, cultures and abilities.

Homelessness Action Plan

It is important to acknowledge that homelessness is not a crime. However, community perceptions of safety are influenced by visible homelessness. The City aims to strengthen partnerships with key stakeholders, including outreach and support services, and will continue to advocate for coordinated approaches to managing homelessness.

Bike Plan

The City recognises that increased bicycle use enhances public safety by activating public spaces. The plan also focuses on ensuring cyclists feel safe and confident when securing their bicycles within the Fremantle area.

Public Health Plan

The Public Health Plan aligns with the Community Safety and Crime Prevention Plan, particularly in relation to advocacy around alcohol and other drugs, harm minimisation, homelessness support through initiatives such as the By-Name List, as well as mental health outreach and youth support services.

Public Lighting Strategy

The City's Public Lighting Strategy ensures that key pedestrian areas and pathways are well lit, which is a critical factor in improving both actual and perceived public safety.

Summary of key achievements from Community Safety Crime Prevention Plan 2019-2024

- MOU created with Police, including the sharing of the CCTV network
- Strengthened collaboration with Noongar Outreach, Department of Communities, and other support services
- Homelessness Plan/Strategy developed
- Liquor Accord and key community meetings facilitated
- Advocacy for crime prevention and threat protection
- Successful promotion of mental health awareness programs
- Enhancement of the Neighbourhood Watch program

- Attendance at precinct group meetings
- Expansion of the existing CCTV network
- Comprehensive audit of city lighting and urban design
- Development of graffiti removal measures

City of Fremantle CCTV Statistics 2021 to 2025

- Over 30,000 hours of live CCTV monitoring in the past five years
- Cameras actively monitored 70% of the time, with operators contactable by WA Police
- Network expanded since 2021 to more than 200 cameras, primarily in the City centre
- Live remote access provided to WA Police through the V-Grid system
- 3,703 video evidence files supplied to Police
- More than 5,000 incidents reported to Police after being captured live on CCTV

Community Engagement and Statistics

The City of Fremantle reviewed and updated its five-year Community Safety & Crime Prevention Plan (CSCPP).

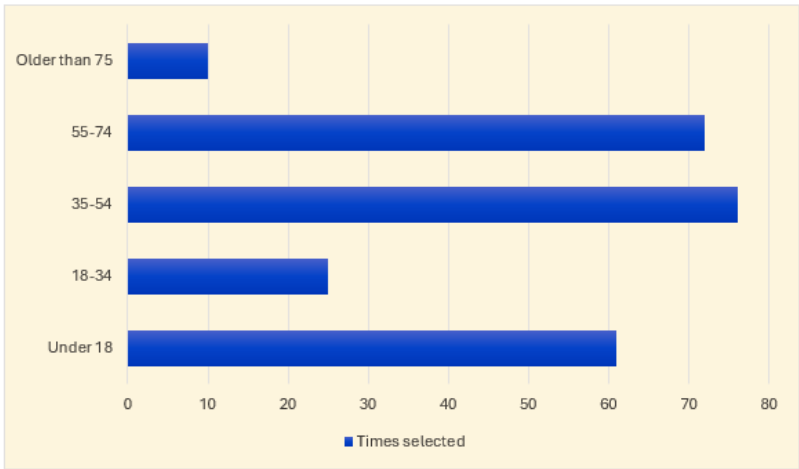

The engagement program aimed to:

- Identify community concerns about antisocial behaviour, safety perceptions, and access to City safety services.
- Understand priorities such as patrols, partnerships, CCTV, and urban design.
- Educate the community on local government roles and available safety resources.
- Refresh the Community Safety & Crime Prevention Plan to meet community needs and City obligations.

Community involvement included reviewing project information online, attending meetings and drop-in sessions, requesting discussions with officers, completing surveys, providing feedback, and sharing best practice examples. The resulting report outlines engagement methods, reach, and key findings to guide next steps.

243 formal submissions, and 6,561 pieces of feedback collected. 31% were from Fremantle (central), the largest grouping, with 27% living outside of the Fremantle LGA, demonstrating the broad promotion of the project via City of Fremantle channels. It highlights strong interest in the updated Community Safety & Crime Prevention Plan, even for those who live outside Fremantle (but may work or visit Fremantle regularly).

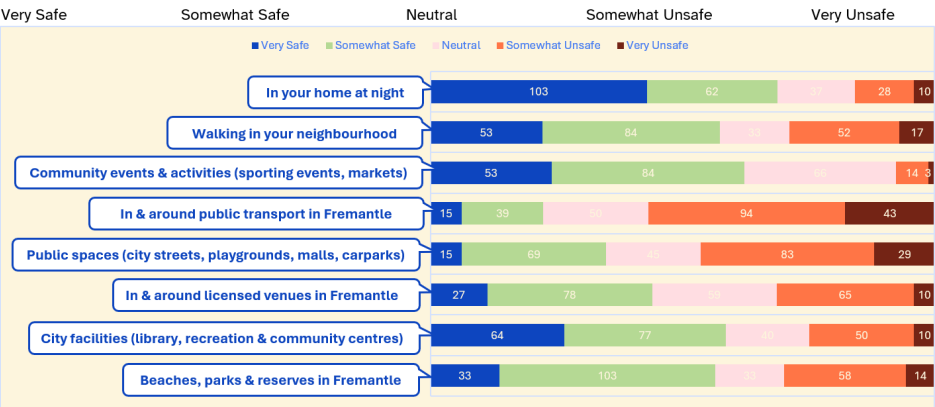

What is your age?

35-54 year olds made up the highest number of respondents to this engagement program and the program saw significant interest from the Under 18 age category. Additionally, the community told us they generally feel safe at home and in their neighbourhood; however, they expressed concerns about public transport, public spaces, and licensed venues.

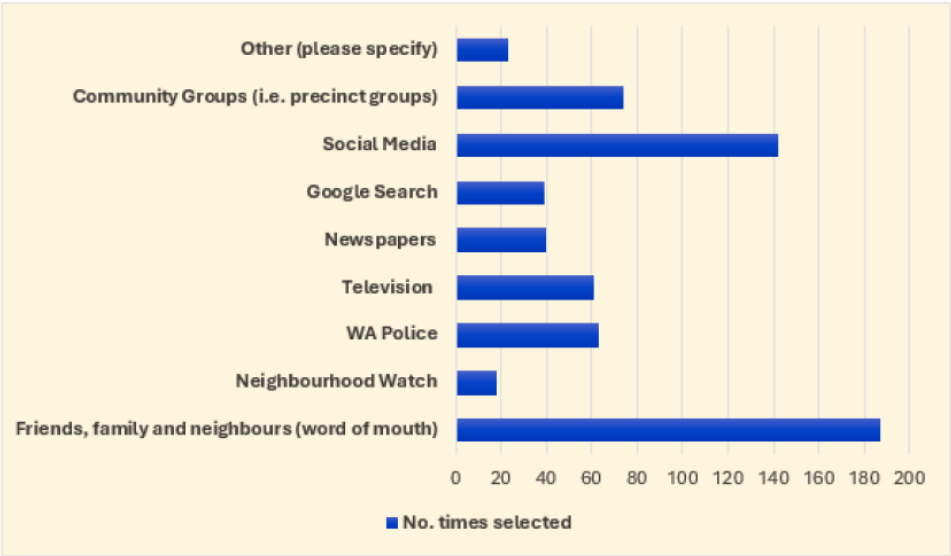

Experience and perceptions of safety in Fremantle.

Respondents were asked how safe they felt in the following Fremantle places and could choose from five options:

What are your main sources of information about crime prevention and community safety?

Respondents indicated that:

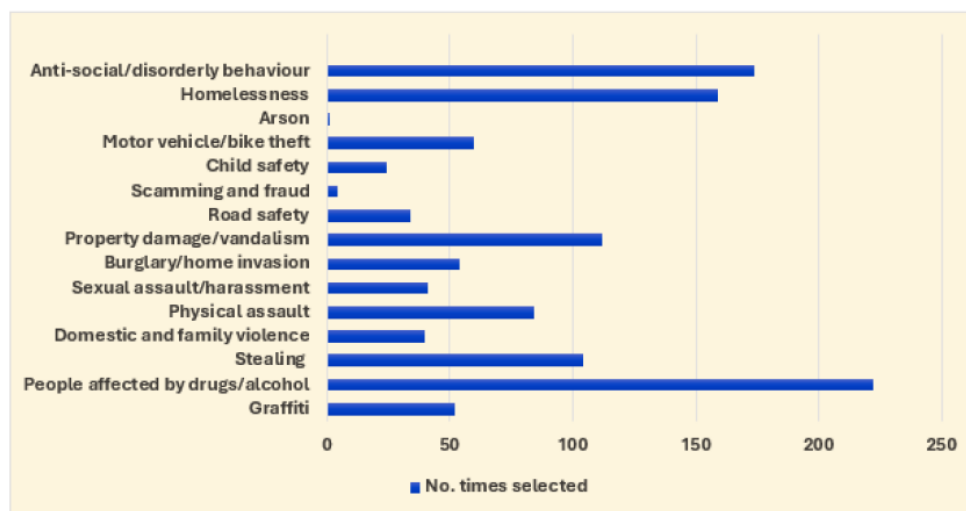

- Word of mouth through friends, family and neighbours is the most common source of safety information
- Social media platforms such as Facebook and WhatsApp are also widely used
- Community groups are another key source
- Neighbourhood Watch is the least relied upon

Other sources include witnessing incidents firsthand, news websites, radio, schools and local business networks.

Overall, informal and digital channels are preferred over traditional media and formal programs. This highlights the importance of using social media and community networks to communicate safety information.

What are the top crime and community safety issues in Fremantle?

- People affected by drugs or alcohol was the most highlighted community safety issue in Fremantle, selected by 92% of all respondents.
- Anti-social/disorderly behaviour was the second most selected crime and community safety issue, selected by 72% of all respondents.
- Homelessness was the third highest ranked issue in Fremantle, selected by 66% of all respondents.

Key themes identified:

- Drug and alcohol use seen as a primary driver of crime and antisocial behaviour
- Concerns about open drug use, discarded syringes and erratic behaviour
- Rough sleeping and begging in public spaces creating discomfort and fear
- Property crime including car break ins and theft affecting residents and businesses
- Desire for more visible policing and regular patrols
- Calls for cleaner, well lit and better maintained streets
- Road safety concerns including poor lighting, unsafe crossings and speeding e bikes
- Graffiti and environmental neglect viewed as indicators of disorder
- Strong support for increased mental health support and outreach services
- Recognition of the need for both enforcement and compassionate, long term responses

What factors most affect how safe you feel in your community?

- Lighting at night was the most selected factor that affected how safe respondents felt in their community.
- Police availability was the second most selected factor contributing to respondent perceptions of safety in their community.
- Knowing my neighbours and CCTV were the fourth most selected factor affecting respondent feelings of safety.

Key themes identified

- Visible antisocial behaviour, substance abuse and crime are driving fear and avoidance of public spaces
- Poor lighting, neglected infrastructure, graffiti and litter contribute to feelings of insecurity
- Frustration with slow police response times and unclear roles of Community Safety Officers
- Calls for more visible patrols, stronger enforcement and expanded CCTV coverage
- Homelessness and complex social needs linked to public disturbances
- Need for better coordination between policing, housing and support services
- Strong value placed on community cohesion, active neighbourhood networks and informal reporting channels
- Well maintained and vibrant streets seen as important for civic pride and crime deterrence
- Alcohol related issues in nightlife areas associated with disorder
- Recommendations for stricter licensing and stronger enforcement in entertainment precincts

City of Fremantle Data (January 2020 to October 2025)

The City has experienced a rise in reported requests since 2023, with documented concerns from the community regarding antisocial behaviour. This has been accompanied by an increase in Police CCTV requests. While the data does show a spike, it's important to note that the City has actively campaigned to become more accessible, enhanced its reporting capabilities, and expanded the CCTV network.

Reports of antisocial behaviour over the past five years have been concentrated in the suburb of Fremantle. As a vibrant destination city, Fremantle attracts a high volume of visitors, including tourists, day-trippers, and individuals seeking support services. This increased foot traffic, combined with a dense mix of entertainment venues, public spaces, and service providers, contributes to a greater visibility and reporting of antisocial behaviour compared to other suburbs. The unique social and economic dynamics of Fremantle, create complex challenges that are not necessarily representative of the broader local government area.

External Data

Crime statistics for Western Australia are publicly available through the WA Police website, which provides the most current and comprehensive data on reported offences across the state, their latest data can be found here: Crime statistics

The Western Australian Alliance to End Homelessness (WAAEH) conducts ongoing surveys and data collection to better understand the experiences and needs of people facing homelessness. Through this work, the organisation maintains a "By-Name List," which records individuals who are currently experiencing homelessness their latest data can be found here: WAAEH

Partnerships

Preventing, managing, and identifying crime requires a collaborative approach. The City maintains strong partnerships with key organisations, including an MoU with WA Police, and through this plan, we aim to demonstrate our ongoing commitment to strengthening these relationships.

"Community safety is not the responsibility of one agency alone—it's a shared commitment. By working together, we create safer, more resilient communities."

Plan conclusions and recommendations

Focus Area 1 – Education

The City will focus on educating residents, businesses, and visitors about how to identify and report incidents of crime or antisocial behaviour. This includes clear guidance on who to contact in different situations, whether it be the Police, the City's Community Safety team, or other relevant services. By improving public understanding of reporting pathways and the importance of timely reporting, we can ensure that incidents are accurately captured, and resources are allocated where they are most needed. The City will also empower local residents with practical knowledge on how to prevent crime in their neighbourhoods, including the tools and resources available to support them.

Focus Area 2 – Outreach & Patrols

The City is committed to a balanced approach that combines compassionate outreach with evidence-based enforcement. Recognising that not all antisocial behaviour is criminal, Fremantle staff will continue to engage with vulnerable individuals through respectful, trauma-informed practices and connect them with appropriate support services. Additionally, early intervention plays a significant role in preventing crime, particularly among young people. The City will explore initiatives that support at-risk youth through education, engagement, and access to support services.

Targeted patrols will be guided by statistical data and community reporting to ensure resources are deployed where they are most needed.

Focus Area 3 – Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design (CPTED)

The City recognises the role of well-designed public infrastructure in preventing crime and enhancing community safety. This plan will focus on strategic improvements to urban environments, including upgraded lighting, an expanded CCTV network, and the application of environmental design principles. Enhanced lighting in key public spaces, laneways, and transport hubs will improve visibility and deter antisocial behaviour, while an expanded CCTV network will support real time monitoring and assist law enforcement with investigations. Other measures, such as improved sightlines, maintenance of public spaces, and activation of underutilised areas will be considered as part of this plan.

It is acknowledged that improvements to the public realm which enhance both the real and perceived sense of safety are particularly important for women and vulnerable groups within our community, especially during the evening along key routes between hospitality venues and transport destinations (such as car parks and the train station).

INTRODUCTION

Under the Public Health Act 2016 (Stage 5 implementation), the City must produce a public health plan that assesses the health needs of the community, sets priorities and develops evidence-based strategies to foster sustainable, equitable and collaborative health improvements for the community's health and public health risks.

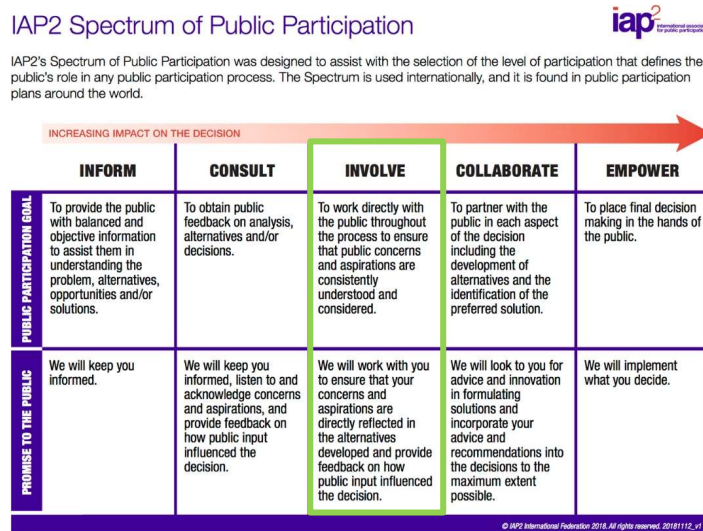

Local government public health plans need to align with the priorities of the State Public Health Plan to ensure the State and local governments are working together to target areas of public health need in a proactive way to achieve long term improvements in public health. The City currently has a Health and Wellbeing Profile (updated in October 2023) but does not currently have a public health plan or health and wellbeing strategy.

The City of Fremantle's Public Health Plan aims to enhance community health, wellbeing, and quality of life by:

- Facilitating a vision for a healthy and sustainable community through greater public participation in health-related issues.
- Integrating public health and wellbeing into existing City-led services and programs.
- Developing collaborative partnerships with key internal and external stakeholders to support public health initiatives.
- Supporting compliance with the Public Health Act 2016 by managing and advancing public health planning.
- Identifying public health needs through data analysis on health status, determinants, and emerging trends.
- Establishing objectives and policy priorities that align with and provide strategic links to local, state, and national policies that impact on health and wellbeing.

During the public engagement phase, City officers sought input from all areas of the Fremantle community to inform the new Public Health Plan. The public and key stakeholder groups were asked to identify what the PHP should include, and the best ways to promote health and wellbeing in the City.

In conjunction with the City of Fremantle's community engagement policy, and the International Association for Public Participation's \(IAP2\) spectrum of public participation, this engagement program aimed to INVOLVE the community throughout the project:

The City of Fremantle conducted a series of in-person and digital community engagement activities to collect submissions and feedback for this proposal.

The public was asked to:

- Learn more about the benefits and uses of a public health plan by exploring the Frequently Asked Questions and explainer documents provided on the MySay project page.
- Submit their input by completing the Community or Local Stakeholder Public Health Plan Survey.
- Contribute feedback on what's currently working and provide best practice examples of public health strategy from other local governments or entities.
- Provide a written submission or request a 1:1 or group meeting with a City Officer.

City officers aimed to:

- Keep the public informed, listen to and acknowledge their concerns and provide feedback on how public input influenced the decision.
- Work with the public to ensure that their concerns and aspirations are directly reflected in the alternatives developed and provide feedback on how public input influenced the decision.

This engagement report details how we engaged; who we reached; and what we heard. The findings of this report will help City staff and Elected Members to make an informed decision on next steps for this topic.

HOW WE ENGAGED

The City of Fremantle opened public engagement on the Public Health Plan 2025-30 on 14 April, 2025, and collected submissions until close-of-business on 21 May, 2025.

City officers promoted the public engagement period in the following ways:

Social Media:

- The public engagement program for this project was heavily mentioned on the City of Fremantle's Facebook page, as well as its Instagram profile throughout the lifespan of the submission period.

Direct Contact/Emails:

- City staff utilised stakeholder lists in Community Development and the Economy & Commercial teams to contact, promote and encourage individuals, groups and organisations in the health and wellbeing sphere a chance to contribute feedback to the PHP.
- These stakeholders were emailed directly and offered a chance to meet 1:1 with staff.

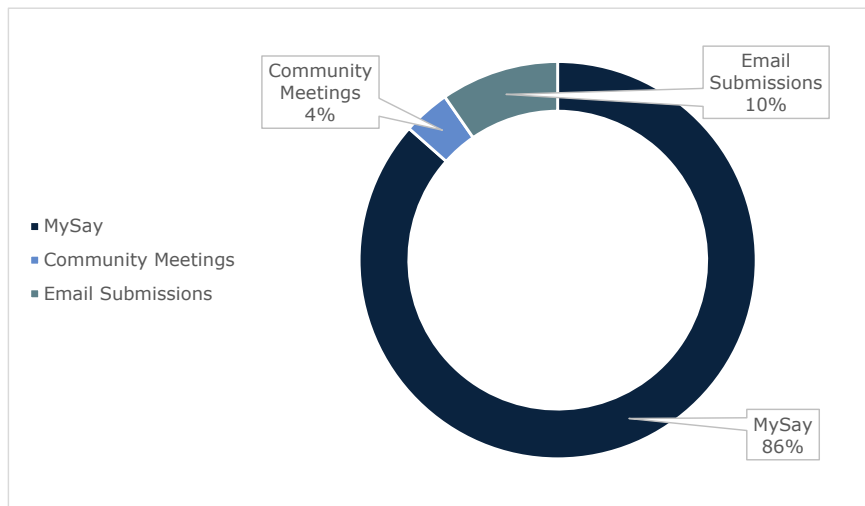

Electronic Newsletters:

- The Community Engagement team deployed a "Just Launched" email newsletter announcing the opening of the public consultation period on 14 April, 2025.
- The Community Engagement team advertised this project via its monthly engagement newsletter in April and May of 2025.
- This email is deployed to almost 4,000 people who are subscribed to hear engagement updates from the City of Fremantle.

1:1 or Group Meetings

- Throughout the engagement period, members of the public were able to book 1:1 or group meetings with City officers to discuss the scope and aims of the PHP before submitting any feedback.

HOW WE COLLECTED FEEDBACK

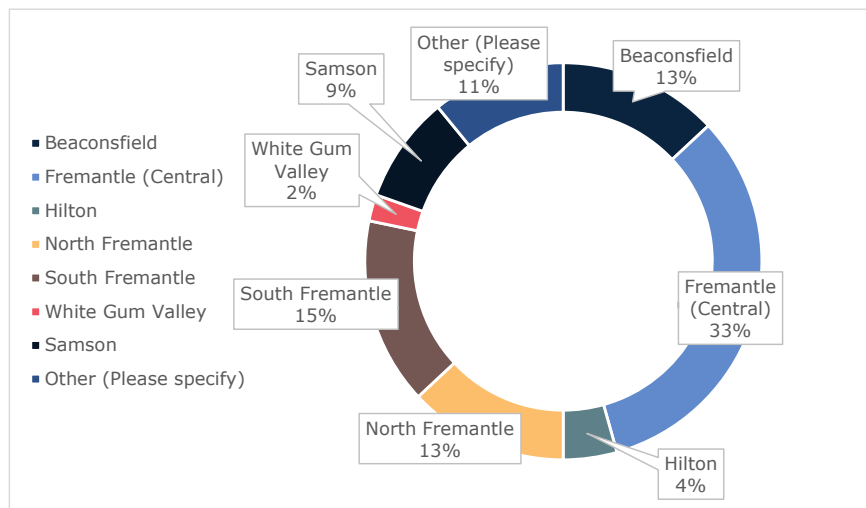

What does this data tell us?

- The public engagement program reached 633 people through face-to-face conversations and online visits to the City's MySay portal.

- Sense of Community, Social Connection, and Belonging
- Events, Markets, and Cultural Activities
- Accessible Services and Amenities were aspects of Fremantle also mentioned repeatedly by respondents.

Respondent comments for each category mentioned by respondents have been summarised in bullet points below:

Access to Beaches, Ocean and Coastal Recreation was voiced 42 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Coastal lifestyle and easy access to Fremantle beachfronts as key to mental and physical health (particularly ocean swimming).
- Walking dogs, solo recreation, social activity and the coastal environment promotes physical activity and stress relief.
- Specific references to South Beach, Leighton Beach, dog beaches, and groynes as daily or weekly wellbeing resources.
- Passively enjoying nature, having a coastal lifestyle and riding or walking to Fremantle beaches provide benefits all year round.

Walkability and Active Transport was voiced 38 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Active commuting (walking, cycling) cited as part of daily life that integrates exercise and social interaction.
- Accessibility (cost, proximity, walking/cycling infrastructure) is a critical factor in how residents engage in wellbeing activities.
- Ability to walk or ride to shops, cafes and public transport in Fremantle from place of residence increases quality of life.
- Value placed on less car reliance, cycle paths, green bike lanes, and safe, quiet streets that encourage cycling for both recreation and transport.

Access to Green Space and Nature was voiced 29 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle's natural spaces or elements such as parks, bushland, tree canopy and native gardens provide peacefulness, relaxation and mindfulness.
- Availability of natural/built environments that incorporate green or sustainable elements encourage physical activity, good mental health, and sense of belonging/alignment in the community.
- Open spaces offer affordable or free activities (e.g., Tai Chi, yoga, festivals) that contribute to physical and mental wellbeing.

Sense of Community, Social Connection, and Belonging was voiced 22 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle's unique community identity, small town feel, familiarity of faces, and cultural vibrancy fosters social inclusion.
- Emphasis on feeling part of the Fremantle community — talking to neighbours, being a member of clubs, community events, feeling part of a place is key to health and wellbeing.
- Inclusive community vibe, access to festivals, and opportunities to meet people through outdoor spaces.

Events, Markets, and Cultural Activities was voiced 12 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Importance of Fremantle Farmers Markets, Fremantle Markets, and public events (Street Arts Festival) or activities (park runs, planting days) that foster a sense of place, culture, and community.

- Local arts venues (Fremantle Arts Centre) and interesting public activities provide stimulation, joy, and opportunities for socialising.

Accessible Services and Amenities was voiced 10 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Recognition of the variety of City services and public spaces that encourage social and physical activity, such as reserves, parks, sports clubs and facilities (Leisure Centre).
- Abundance of places exist in Fremantle where healthy fresh foods and prepared meals can be purchased (markets, whole food stores etc.)
- Appreciation of being within walking distance to medical services, shops, childcare, cafes, libraries, and hairdressers, supporting convenience and daily living.

Exercise Facilities and Health Opportunities was voiced 8 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Many activities available in Fremantle such as tai chi, yoga, Pilates, swimming, outdoor exercise on offer in Fremantle to support health and wellbeing.
- Local health businesses such as saunas, gyms and wellness services contribute to a holistic wellbeing offering.
- Social exercise groups are popular and easy to join.

Sustainability, Environmental Values, and Local Economy was voiced 7 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Appreciation for opportunities to shop local, reduce car use, and live sustainably.
- Ethical alignment with sustainable transport, values-aligned living, reuse culture small business/markets over big chains and corporations, and calm, green urban design.

Safety, Comfort, and Low Traffic was voiced 4 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Value placed on cycle paths, green bike lanes, and safe, low-traffic streets that encourage cycling for both recreation and transport.
- Fremantle has a variety of pleasant, quiet streets, calmed traffic zones, and good lighting.

Public and Sustainable Transport was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Easy access to public transport options increases connection to wider services beyond Fremantle.

Issues affecting health and wellbeing in Fremantle

The following question asked respondents to take a few minutes to consider their local area and what issues affect their health and quality of life.

Respondents were asked "Thinking about what could be improved, please select the top five issues that have negatively affected you, your family and friends over the past 12 months."

The results have been tabled from most selected to least selected negative issues:

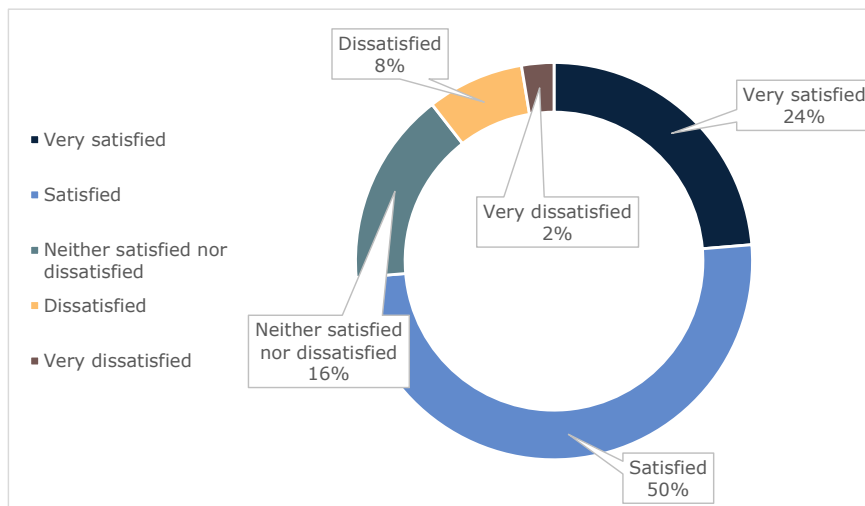

Issue	# of times selected
High levels of homelessness	20
Lack of affordable housing	19
Lack of shade in the community	16
High crime levels and often feeling unsafe	12
High levels of drug use	10
High levels of alcohol abuse	8
Lack of support for adult mental health	7
Lack of affordable food	7
High use or exposure to smoking/vaping	5
Lack of community engagement activities (e.g. street parties, lifelong learning, etc.)	5
Lack of activities for young people	5
Lack of affordable events for families	5
Lack of activities for old people	3
Domestic and/or family violence	3
Lack of support for children with disabilities and/or their families	3
Lack of support for children and family mental health	2
Lack of access to required medical services	2

What does this data tell us?

- High levels of homelessness was the most selected issue that negatively affected respondents or their families in Fremantle over the last 12 months. It was selected by 57% of all survey participants.
- Lack of affordable housing was the second highest ranked issue, selected by 54% of all respondents as an issue needing improvement in Fremantle.
- Lack of shade in the community was the third most selected issue, selected by 45% of respondents.
- High crime levels, high levels of drug use and high levels of alcohol use also ranked highly among respondents as issues in Fremantle requiring improvement, being selected by 34%, 28% and 23% of respondents respectively.

Social connection in Fremantle

Respondents were asked, "How satisfied are you with the opportunities to connect with local people in your area to have a chat and socialise?"

What does this data tell us?

- 74% of respondents were very satisfied or satisfied with the opportunities to connect and socialise with people in their local area.
- 16% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied.
- 10% of respondents were dissatisfied or very dissatisfied.

Respondents were asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

Local Events, Groups, and Shared Spaces was voiced 15 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- The presence of many shared spaces in Fremantle (cafes, local shops, schools, and parks) support day-to-day socialising and serve as informal hubs for connection.
- Activist networks, "Friends of" groups, artistic and gardening collectives are some of the ways people find community and connection in Fremantle.

- Regular community activities such as arts events, music concerts, and farmers markets contribute key opportunities for regular social engagement.

Walkability Enabling Social Interaction was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle's walkable neighbourhoods create natural opportunities for casual chats and encounters.
- Walking dogs, shopping locally and using public transport all support spontaneous socialising with neighbours and friends.
- Streets that feel safe and shaded encourage more people to connect while out and about.

Community-minded Culture & Neighbourhood Connection was voiced 9 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Residents in Fremantle value friendly neighbours, a welcoming atmosphere, and strong local identity.
- Community spirit and a strong grassroots neighbourhood or street culture is seen as a defining feature of the greater Fremantle area.

NEUTRAL

Barriers to Meaningful Connection was voiced 5 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Concerns that Fremantle lacks sufficient, accessible public spaces or structured opportunities to meet new people.
- While casual greetings can occur, deeper social connection can be rare as people tend to keep to themselves or have pre-existing friendship groups that make it difficult for newcomers.

Safety Concerns and Discomfort in Public Spaces was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Feeling unsafe in the streets, especially at night, which discourages socialising or participating in community life.
- Negative perceptions of Fremantle's CBD make certain individuals reluctant to leave home or engage with others.

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Lack of Inclusive, Accessible Community Spaces and Infrastructure was voiced 4 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

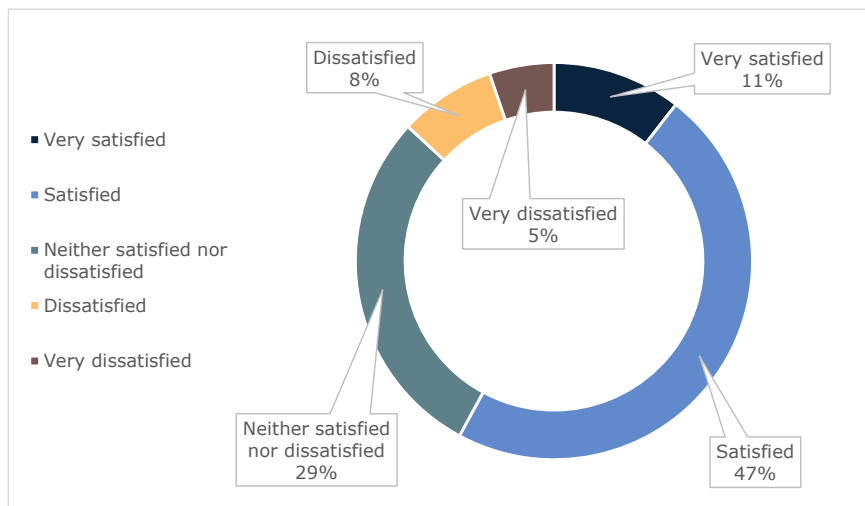

- Lack of general-use spaces in neighbourhoods that support spontaneous or informal socialising, as well as an absence of multi-use or shared public areas.
- Samson lacks a central 'hub' or gathering point that could encourage people of all demographics to mingle.
- Local parks are appreciated but often cater primarily to dog owners, leaving others feeling excluded.

Limited and Exclusionary Nature of Existing Events/Clubs was voiced 3 times.
Respondents highlighted the following:

- Some clubs or community spaces (such as surf lifesaving or bowling clubs) are perceived as closed off or exclusive to members.
- Events in Fremantle are seen as narrowly targeted, with a strong skew toward older audiences and limited appeal for broader demographics.

Walking and cycling in Fremantle

Respondents were asked “How satisfied are you with the walking and cycling infrastructure in the City of Fremantle?”

What does this data tell us?

- 47% of respondents were satisfied with the current walking and cycling infrastructure in Fremantle.
- 11% of respondents were very satisfied.
- 29% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied.
- 13% of respondents were dissatisfied or very dissatisfied.

Respondents were asked to explain their selection via an optional open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

Satisfaction with walkability and availability of paths was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- General satisfaction with current walking and cycling conditions in Fremantle – existing paths are generally seen as flat, well-connected, and easy to navigate.
- Appreciation of current dedicated walking and cycling paths that link the urban/suburban to the coast, natural areas, City precincts and tourist destinations.

Safety Concerns was voiced 6 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Cyclists noted riding on roads Fremantle is often dangerous due to speeding vehicles, erratic drivers, or proximity to parked cars.
- Anti-cyclist/pedestrian driver behaviour, particularly in areas with busy traffic or high parking demand (e.g. South Fremantle), is perceived as a major hazard.
- More dedicated cycle lanes and safe crossings for bikes and pedestrians would encourage extra cycling activity in Fremantle.

NEUTRAL

Infrastructure Gaps or Maintenance issues was voiced 6 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Footpath quality on Fremantle streets is inconsistent or poor, especially in older areas and require upgrading, maintenance or regular cleaning.
- Clearer separation of road users (walking, cycling, driving) is required on busy streets to increase safety for all and encourage active transport.

Amenity Issues was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Amenities that provide comfort, shade and seating for pedestrians (especially elderly) are lacking in high traffic areas such as walking paths that connect the City to the beach, port and river.
- Walking and cycling activity at night would be encouraged if better lighting was provided on key routes to increase feelings of safety.

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Disconnected/Inadequate Cycling Infrastructure was voiced 9 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle's bike network is disjointed, often forcing cyclists into traffic or abruptly ending in some areas.
- Areas highlighted as particularly unsafe for cyclists: South Terrace, Tydeman Road, Hampton Road, and Leighton/Port Beach.
- Several respondents noted there is no safe continuous route for children or less confident riders, especially between neighbourhood hubs and school zones.

Safety Risks and Vehicles was voiced 8 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

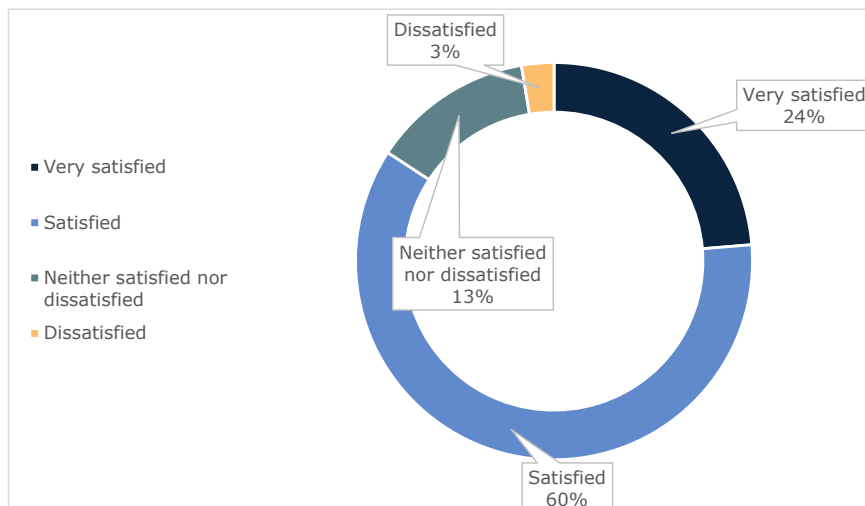

- Lack of crossings at major intersections and vehicle speeding at roundabouts create dangerous conditions for pedestrians navigating Fremantle.
- South Terrace was repeatedly flagged as high-risk to due to missing pedestrian crossings, while Market Street is noted for issues with bus traffic making cycling dangerous.
- Footpaths shared with e-skateboards and e-scooters make walking and cycling hazardous, especially for older respondents and dog walkers.

Poor Footpath Conditions was voiced 4 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Widespread issues with trip hazards, poor lighting, overgrown vegetation, and lack of shade raised by respondents.
- Footpaths seen as unsafe or uncomfortable, especially for older adults or those walking at night.

Arts and cultural activities in Fremantle

Participants were asked “How satisfied are you with the opportunity to participate either passively or actively, in local arts and cultural activities in Fremantle?”

What does this data tell us?

- 84% of respondents were satisfied or very satisfied with the opportunity to participate either passively or actively in local arts or cultural activities in Fremantle.
- 13% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied.
- 3% of respondents were dissatisfied.
- No respondents were very dissatisfied.

Respondents were asked to explain their selection via an optional open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

Availability and Accessibility of Arts Activities was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Appreciation of the wide range of activities including festivals, exhibitions, gigs, and community events on offer; there is "always something on" in Fremantle.
- Venues such as Fremantle Arts Centre and Library, local festivals (e.g., Street Arts Festival, Samson Tree Festival, Fun-Mantle, and low-cost or free offerings identified as key strengths.
- City-led events appeal to a wide range of ages and demographics.

NEUTRAL

Barriers to Access was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- City-led arts and cultural programming in Fremantle is reduced, compared to 10-15 years ago.
- Access to certain programs and events is limited due to timing, such as arts activities that only occur in school holidays or workshops held during working hours.

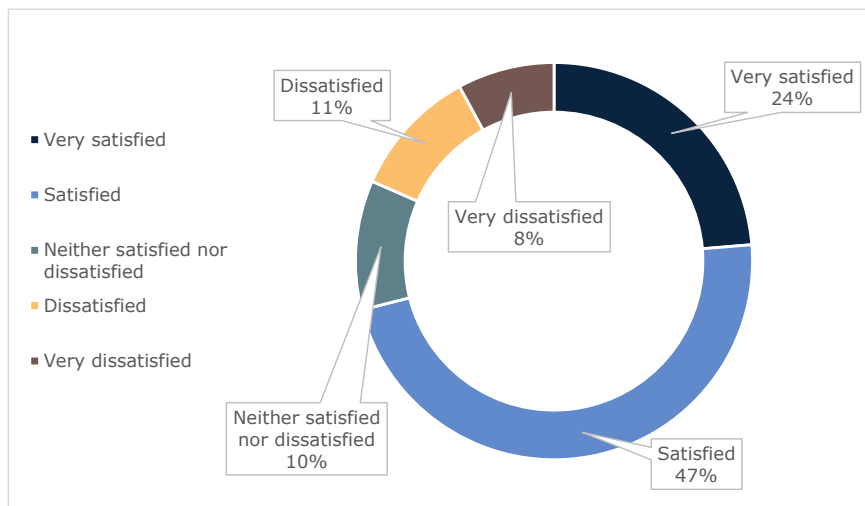

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Lack of Information/Publicity was mentioned 1 time. The respondent noted:

- Difficulty in obtaining information about upcoming arts and cultural events in Fremantle.
- Suggestion to mandate space in local newspapers and radio to promote concerts, exhibitions and other events in Fremantle to reach more residents.

Fremantle reserves, parks and public open spaces

Respondents were asked "How satisfied are you with the parks, green space and public open spaces available in the City?"

What does this data tell us?

- 47% of respondents were satisfied with the parks, green space and public open spaces available in Fremantle.
- 24% of respondents were very satisfied.
- 10% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied.
- 18% of respondents were dissatisfied or very dissatisfied.

Respondents were also asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

Abundance and Value of Parks/Green Spaces was voiced 14 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Frequent appreciation of high satisfaction with the quantity, diversity and accessibility of parks, green spaces and natural areas in Fremantle.
- Green spaces seen as a major drawcard of Fremantle.
- Local pocket parks and neighbourhood green spaces praised for their community use, proximity and family-friendly atmosphere.

- Parks such as Booyeembara and Samson Park specifically mentioned for quality of native environment and enjoyment.

Maintenance and Presentation of Parks/Green Spaces was voiced 8 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Satisfaction for local parks and green areas that are kept well maintained.
- Aspirations for better landscaping and urban greening (e.g. increasing tree canopy, more native plantings etc.)

Wellbeing and Connection to Nature was voiced 5 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Open spaces, including beach/river access, parks and reserves promote active lifestyles, increased recreation, as well as support mental health and connection to nature.

NEUTRAL

Maintenance and Safety was voiced 4 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Antisocial behaviour, especially drug use and homelessness impact enjoyment of some local playgrounds. Calls for some parks to have improved lighting.
- Some parks require extra maintenance to deal with patchy upkeep and issues with dog waste.

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Lack of Shade and Tree Canopy was voiced 6 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle has poor tree cover compared to other Local Government Areas.
- Increasing urban heat and climate change impacts require urgent increase in tree canopy, shade structures and planting efforts.

Poor Safety and Anti-social Behaviour was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

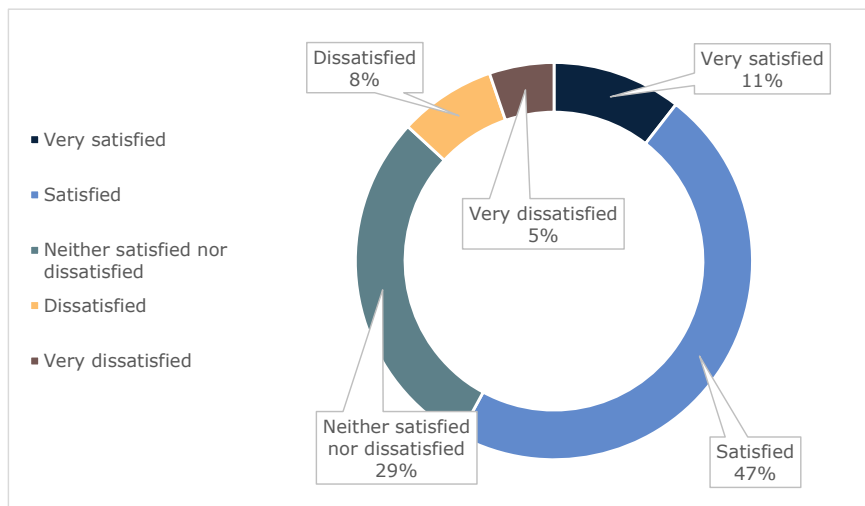

- Certain public spaces perceived as unsafe due to loitering, drug use, and violence.
- Police and the City's community safety service perceived as ineffective in addressing safety concerns.

Need for Better Quality and Connectivity was voiced 2 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Gaps between "good" parks; need for better connection, protection and overall servicing of green areas.
- Specific parks like the Esplanade seen as lacking in appeal or amenities.

Recreational facilities in Fremantle

Respondents were asked "How satisfied are you with the recreational facilities in Fremantle?"

What does this data tell us?

58% of respondents were very satisfied or satisfied with the recreational facilities in Fremantle.

- 29% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied.
- 13% of respondents were dissatisfied or very dissatisfied

Respondents were also asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

Good Variety and Availability of Recreation was voiced 8 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Generally good standard and variety of recreational facilities available across the wider city area.
- Recreation Centres or locations (Samson, Freo Leisure Centre, South/Port Beach) are easy to access and affordable or free.

Facility Upgrades was voiced 6 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle Leisure Centre is very popular, but requires an upgrade to maintain accessibility, quality and variety of experience.
- Port Beach changerooms and toilet blocks highlighted as substandard.

NEUTRAL

Need for Expanded and Diverse Recreational Infrastructure was voiced 5 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Expanded indoor sports facilities (gymnastics, squash, pickleball, indoor soccer), outdoor coastal gym equipment and an ocean pool could complement existing infrastructure and support growing demand.
- Fremantle Leisure Centre is overcrowded; an additional recreational facility would ease pressure and broaden community offerings.

Increased Accessibility and Engagement was voiced 4 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- More accessible events like yoga, volleyball at the beach and other low-cost wellness or social activities in public spaces.
- Unawareness of city recreational facilities available and what they include.
- Need for clearer communication and promotion to raise awareness and relevance of local offerings.

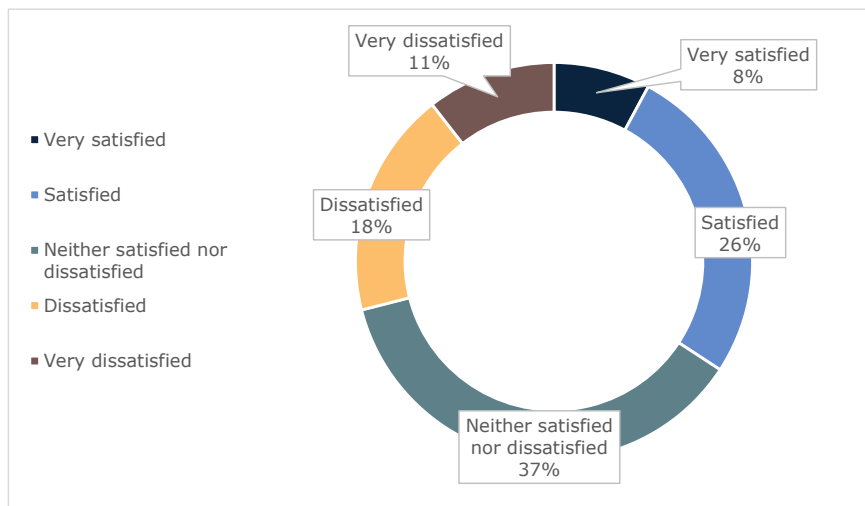

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Affordability and Accessibility was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Limited access to City recreational venues for those on low income or pensioners, or for large families.
- No new facilities (especially cycling, indoor sport, swimming) have been added to Fremantle, and current facilities are not adapting to increased demand.

Perceptions of community safety

Respondents were asked "How satisfied are you with community safety within the City?"

What does this data tell us?

- 34% of respondents were very satisfied or satisfied.
- 37% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied with the recreational facilities in Fremantle.
- 18% of respondents were dissatisfied.
- 11% of respondents were very dissatisfied.

Respondents were also asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

General Perception of Safety was voiced 6 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Fremantle feels generally safe, during the day and in public spaces. Surveillance and community safety presence is adequate.
- Acknowledgment that anti-social behaviour is visible, but not often seen as a direct personal threat.
- Repeated perception that Fremantle has improved in safety over time.

Support Services and Anti-Social Behaviour was voiced 4 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Homelessness and public intoxication are recognised as ongoing visible issues in Fremantle and more mental health support service is required.
- Safety officers are effective, but coverage and presence are inadequate during evenings and weekends in central Fremantle.

NEUTRAL

Visibility and Variance of Safety was voiced 7 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Antisocial behaviour is often tolerated during the day but can make people feel uncomfortable or unsafe after dark, particularly for families or visitors.
- Safety concerns limited to locations the CBD, but alleviated by presence of busy streets, Police and community safety officers
- Enhanced lighting, safety presence, and management of vulnerable groups are suggested as ways to improve night-time safety.

Crime and Property Concerns was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Opportunistic crimes such as bike theft and vandalism are noted as common and frustrating for residents.
- Desire for more prevention measures, including CCTV in targeted locations and better upkeep of public spaces to reduce graffiti and rubbish.

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Anti-Social Behaviour, Drugs and Alcohol Use was voiced 9 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Many areas, particularly the CBD, parks and residential streets, are impacted by public drug/alcohol use, swearing, shouting, and disruptive behaviours.
- Key parks, streets and public areas are avoided after dark due to the prevalence of intimidating behaviour and crime.

Policing, Crime and Council Response was voiced 6 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

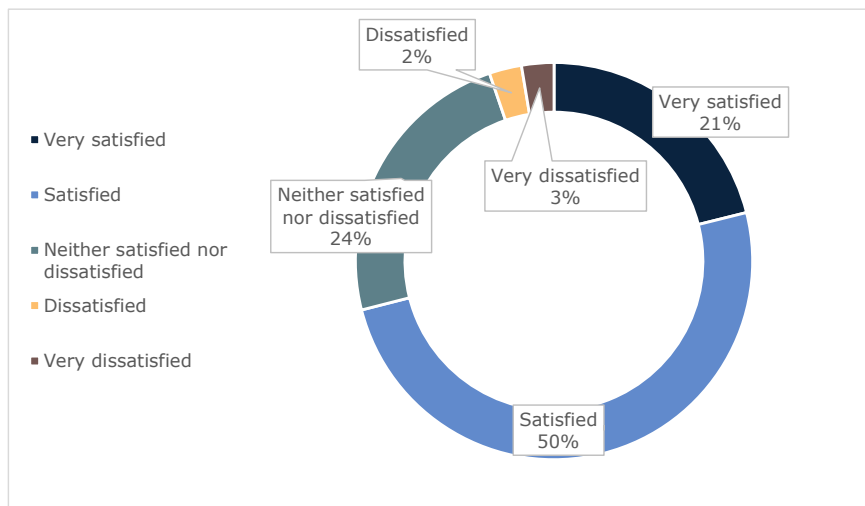

- Frustration that existing responses are insufficient, stronger action and better patrol coverage is needed by community safety officers.
- Police presence is inadequate or poorly focused, with calls not always responded to and visible patrols lacking in key trouble areas.
- Concerns about frequent theft, especially car break-ins and home targeting at night.
- Better council response to maintenance issues (rubbish, graffiti, illegal parking) was also requested.

Homelessness and Social Services Gap was voiced 5 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Visible homelessness and related behaviours (bin searching, car sleeping, street presence) are a prominent issue and are a symptom of gentrification, housing and cost-of-living pressures.
- Enforcement alone is an inappropriate response, and more outreach support services and housing solutions are needed.

Fremantle Council led events and city facilities

Respondents were asked “How satisfied are you with the level of Council organised community events or facilities in the City? (e.g. Men's Shed, children's reading sessions, festivals, adult learning, community art projects, etc.)”

What does this data tell us?

- 71% of respondents were very satisfied or satisfied with the level of Council organised community events or facilities in Fremantle.
- 24% of respondents were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied.
- 5% of respondents were dissatisfied or very dissatisfied.

Respondents were also asked to explain their selection via an open text survey question. Their responses have been grouped into the categories below, with recurring themes summarised and presented as bullet points:

- VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED
- NEUTRAL
- DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

VERY SATISFIED or SATISFIED

Variety and Proactiveness was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Proactive role of the Council recognised in fostering positive community engagement through diverse event offerings.
- Variety and accessibility of City-led events and signature programs is appreciated: 10 Nights in Port, Hidden Treasures, Sunday Music at Fremantle Arts Centre, Fremantle Arts Festival, and the Buster the Fun Bus.
- General satisfaction, but more could be invested in community activation, as locals often feel forgotten over big festivals or events in Fremantle that target external visitors.

Communication and Awareness of Events was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- The City's existing communication channels (library, email, Fre-Oh! magazine, hard copy updates) are appreciated, but more could be done to promote certain events.
- Improved or strategically targeted publicity of events and activities would ensure awareness across all demographics (and not just the already engaged) and would increase participation.

Safety and Accessibility Concerns Impacting Participation was voiced 2 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Concerns about personal safety in the community deter some residents from attending events, especially at night.
- Addressing safety perceptions could help increase event attendance and inclusivity.

NEUTRAL

Council Priorities and Value was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Demand for City-led neighbourhood and community events held outside the city centre, and facilities especially for children and young people (i.e. a youth centre).
- Council should focus less on events and more on core services (bins, roads, verges, public amenities etc.)
- Imbalance between what is being offered to visitors/tourists versus residents.

DISSATISFIED or VERY DISSATISFIED

Selectivity was voiced 1 time. Respondents highlighted the following:

- City led events and cultural activities only cater for a selective portion of the community.

ADDITIONAL PUBLIC COMMENTS

Respondents were asked to share any additional comments or feedback that may not have been captured via the questions presented in our MySay survey. Their answers have been summarised into themes that appear multiple times with accompanying bullet points below.

Greening and Public Spaces was voiced 12 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- More street trees, native verge gardens, tree canopy targets, tiny forests, and greening of urban spaces to address heat is needed to improve air quality and enhance wellbeing.
- Increased seating, shade, drinking water, and toilets in public areas to encourage walking and social use of public space.
- Reducing car dominance (fewer car parks, more space for pedestrians and cyclists) is critical to improving public health outcomes.

Active Transport and Mobility was voiced 11 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Improved cycling infrastructure, safe pedestrian access, and public transport connectivity to increase active transport
- Completion of strategic projects (e.g. North Fremantle cycle path, Market Street/South Terrace pedestrian zone) should be prioritised.
- Coastal public amenities should be protected, increased and subjected to regular maintenance and upgrades where possible.
- Return of the CAT bus service to increase mobility and access, particularly for families, elderly residents, and beach users.

Safety and Social Cohesion was voiced 7 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Increased response to antisocial behaviour and community safety, especially Community Safety presence.
- Rebalance of City priorities (less emphasis on nightlife, more on family-friendly, balanced public spaces).
- Opportunity to foster a more connected, compassionate community, with more age-friendly approaches, tackling loneliness, and inclusive public events.
- First Nations health, education and culturally sensitive, trauma informed approaches should be pursued as a key focus.

Public Health Issues and Regulation was voiced 7 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Submissions from Cancer Council WA and Fremantle Chamber of Commerce both emphasised reduction and prevention of smoking and vaping should form a key priority within the PHP, as well as the restriction of local retailers selling illegal vaping products targeting youth.
- Consider the full spectrum of alcohol-related harm in the community when selecting priority health outcomes for the PHP.
- Excessive public smoking and alcohol density in City centre requires attention.

- Explicit inclusion of climate change impacts in public health planning.

Vulnerable Communities, Housing Affordability and Inclusion was voiced 5 times.
Respondents highlighted the following:

- Inclusive approaches are needed to tackle anti-social behaviour, homelessness and mental health issues in the community.
- Gentrification and housing unaffordability is eroding Fremantle's diversity and inclusivity.
- Increased affordable housing stock and targeted strategies to maintain community character.

Public Health Initiatives was voiced 3 times. Respondents highlighted the following:

- Increased City led or supported events in partnership with health providers, organisations or businesses promoting positive health and wellbeing - such as walking/running groups, nutrition and good-eating habits seminars, pop-ups in Walyalup Koort, free health check-ups etc.
- Creation of a grant program supporting:
 - o Local media operators to promote existing and future health and wellbeing programs, editorials, events and strategies.
 - o Electrifying homes.
 - o Increased native planting, green corridors and pocket parks in all neighbourhoods.

Dear Community Engagement Team

City of Fremantle Public Health Plan 2025-2029

We refer to the above matter.

As the peak non-government cancer control organisation in Western Australia, Cancer Council WA advises the state and local governments and other bodies on practices and policies to help prevent, detect and treat cancer. We develop, promote and contribute to policy and initiatives to reduce the impact of cancer on the Western Australian and Australian community.

Every single day, approximately 38 Western Australians are diagnosed with cancer. Cancer is the largest burden on the public health system. While at least one third of cancers are preventable, and cancer risk can be modified, it is still a leading cause of death in Australia. There were 49,035 deaths from cancer in Australia in 2019¹. Research has indicated that approximately 32 per cent of cancers (excluding non-melanoma skin cancers) diagnosed are attributed to known risk factors that can be controlled². The number of cancer cases and deaths can be reduced through addressing risk factors such as tobacco use; poor diet; inadequate physical activity; UV radiation and alcohol use (amongst other risk factors). Local government public health plans are important frameworks that can underpin and support much of the work Cancer Council WA does in reducing the incidence and impact of cancer. With shared risk factors, taking steps to reduce the risk of cancer can also reduce the risk of other chronic conditions such as type II diabetes, heart disease and dementia.

In the spirit of deepening relationships, Cancer Council WA acknowledges all the Traditional Custodians and owners of Country throughout Western Australia and recognises their continuing connection to land, waters and community. We also pay our respect to their Elders and extend that respect to all Aboriginal peoples living and working in this area.

Cancer Council WA has on several occasions met with, or provided public health advice to, the City of Fremantle on the topics of smoke free malls; early childhood settings; alcohol and unhealthy food and drink sponsorship and advertising and shade availability at sporting clubs and sporting reserves. While this has not resulted in tangible action we are pleased City of Fremantle is pursuing a public health plan and we are hopeful it will result in positive steps forward in supporting community health with our advice turned into action in the future.

Cancer Council WA appreciates the opportunity to provide input into the City of Fremantle's first draft Public Health Plan 2025-2029 ('PHP') which we understand will be used to enhance community health, wellbeing and quality of life via clear priorities and evidence-based strategies. We are grateful to be able to provide our feedback via letter, as opposed to completion of the survey.

As you work towards developing your PHP, please see below our comments and suggestions for your consideration which are largely related to cancer prevention within the community. Please bear in mind that our approach benefits community health more broadly.

As a starting point, we draw your attention to the Cancer Council WA's Local Governments, Public Health and Cancer Prevention Guide³ which provides:

- a comprehensive guide and information for local governments seeking to take evidence-based action across key areas in public health planning including supporting healthy eating, reducing harm from alcohol, preventing skin cancer and making smoking history;
- data on the strength of community support for action to be taken in each of the key areas;
- examples of how various local governments have taken action;
- how Cancer Council WA can work with, and support, the City of Fremantle in addressing the key areas;
- Contact details of Cancer Council WA health promotion officers who can give advice; presentations to community, local government staff and elected officials; and provide resources;
- recommendations for advertising and sponsorship policies and sun protection policies.

We urge the City of Fremantle to consider policy priorities for each key area outlined below, as policy approaches will provide lasting benefit, beyond education activities that can seem easier to implement at the time, but rarely have a lasting impact.

Increase healthy eating and active living

Living with overweight and obesity has overtaken tobacco use as the leading risk factor contributing to total disease burden in Australia and poor diets is the third leading risk factor after tobacco use.⁴

The World Cancer Research Fund states that living with overweight and obesity can increase the risk of at least 13 different types of cancer⁵. In Australia, 6 per cent of the total cancer burden is due to having overweight and obesity, and 3.3 per cent due to poor diets.⁴ Poor diets are strong risk factors for particular types of cancer, for example 21.3 per cent of bowel cancer total burden is attributed to poor diets, higher than any other risk factor in Australia.⁴ Dietary patterns associated with cancer risk are high in meat and processed meat, low in vegetables, whole grains and legumes.

Poor diets and physical inactivity are largely a response to the environments in which we live. Unhealthy food and drinks are the most widely marketed and available, and driving the car and sedentary leisure activities feel like the safer, more affordable and convenient options. Cancer Council WA prioritises actions that create environments and settings that support the community to eat healthy foods and be active.

Cancer Council WA recommends City of Fremantle focus on making this a priority in its PHP given the statistics in its 2023 Health and Wellbeing profile indicate that 64% of the community are above a healthy weight with 26.6% classified as obese, 37.4% as overweight, while 44.2% do not eat enough fruit, 85.2% do not eat enough vegetables and 40.3% do not undertake enough physical activity each week.

Reducing alcohol harms

Alcohol-related harms remain a significant concern in Western Australia, contributing to chronic disease, injury, and violence. Although awareness is relatively low, alcohol is also a cause of cancer and is estimated to be responsible for nearly 5,800 cancer cases in Australia each year.⁶

The 2023 Health and Wellbeing profile for the City of Fremantle indicated that 23.8% of the community drinks alcohol at levels that increase their risk for long term harm of alcohol-related disease or injury (i.e. more than two standard drinks on any day). Given this, Cancer Council WA strongly encourages the City of Fremantle to ensure alcohol is a priority topic in its PHP.

Cancer Council WA also encourages the City of Fremantle to consider the full spectrum of alcohol-related harm in the community when selecting priority health outcomes for the PHP. A comprehensive approach would ensure that the focus is not only on reducing consumption at levels that increase risk of harm, but also on reducing related harms, such as the risk of cancer and other diseases, mental health issues, injuries, and violence.

Further, it is important to recognise that harm from alcohol can also occur when drinking within the recommended guidelines. Research shows that even low-to-moderate consumption is linked to a range of health risks, including cancer. Ultimately, no level of alcohol use is completely free of any risk of harm. There are also important harms caused to people other than the drinker.

Cancer Council WA would like to congratulate City of Fremantle on what it has already done to reduce harm from alcohol via its Alcohol Management Policy, including 'Prevent alcohol naming rights sponsorship of music events or other cultural events that have a youth-audience focus.' We fully support City of Fremantle building on this approach. One example of how this could occur is in relation to the audit Cancer Council WA has recently carried out of sporting reserves owned and managed by the City of Fremantle in collaboration with South Metropolitan Health Service and the City of Fremantle. One of the recommendations within the audit report were to develop a policy to restrict alcohol and unhealthy food and drink advertising signage at sporting reserves owned by the City of Fremantle. This would further reduce the exposure of alcohol advertising to the youth who use the sporting reserves.

In addition to Cancer Council WA's Local Governments Public Health and Cancer Prevention Guide³, we recommend our Healthy Advertising Standards Toolkit⁷ as a supportive resource to aid in the development of healthy advertising standards.

Skin cancer prevention

Australia has the highest rate of skin cancer in the world⁸, with over 1,400 melanomas diagnosed in 2020 in WA⁹ and more than 115,000 non-melanoma skin cancer treatments in 2023¹⁰. Skin cancer is largely preventable by reducing over-exposure to UV radiation, a Group 1 carcinogen. Cancer Council WA strongly encourages the City of Fremantle to address skin cancer prevention and sun protection measures as a priority within its PHP.

This includes the need for shade creation and protection objectives and strategies. Shade encourages safer, longer participation in outdoor activities, enhances comfort, and promotes inclusivity, making events more accessible. With the potential to reduce UV exposure by up to 75%¹¹, shade in public open spaces is a vital public health measure that promotes safety and well-being for the community. For many children, families and communities, it's hard to be SunSmart when there are limited well-shaded facilities and public places, including schools. In particular, natural or artificial shade should be a requirement and not an option for inclusion with regard to the maintenance, or redevelopment, of housing, public playgrounds and public infrastructure.

Local governments are in a position to reduce skin cancer risk by promoting sun protective behaviours and reducing over-exposure to UV radiation, through measures like increased well designed shade. Shade is of central importance to skin cancer prevention and we also believe that focussing on the importance of shade helps those implementing Public Health Plans with addressing the retention, and hopefully, increase, of the tree canopy in general.

As set out in our City of Fremantle: Audit Report from January 2025¹²:

The City of Fremantle is in the fortunate position of having public open spaces with established and mature tree coverage, which provides ample opportunities for shade at the [six City of Fremantle owned] sporting reserves observed. Most of the reserves where junior sporting games were being played had additional temporary shade structures. In conjunction with the natural shade, it appeared at the time of the observations that there was sufficient shade available for patrons, although we could not determine whether players, officials and visitors were encouraged to seek these shade options.¹²

Adopting and implementing a shade policy via the PHP will help protect existing shade assets as well as provide a comprehensive approach to managing and providing shade. We recommend Cancer Council WA's The Shade Handbook¹¹ and The ShadeSmart Program¹³ as both helpful resources when considering the provision of quality shade.

Smoking and vaping

We encourage the City of Fremantle to make the reduction and prevention of smoking and vaping a key priority within the PHP. This ties in with the draft State Public Health Plan 2025-2030 where the priority around reduction of tobacco use also includes the reduction of vapes and related products.

The need for focus on this area is because smoking causes at least sixteen types of cancer and remains the leading cause of preventable cancer burden in Australia.¹⁴ This disproportionately impacts nearly all priority groups such as Aboriginal people, people experiencing socio-economic disadvantage and people living with a mental illness.³ There is no safe level of exposure to tobacco smoke.³

Of particular concern is the explosion in vaping over the last five years. National data show a significant increase in current vaping between 2020 and 2022 among young people aged 14-

24 years. Between 2020 and 2022, the proportion of teens aged 14-17 years who currently vape increased by more than fivefold, from 2.1% in 2020 to 11.8% in 2022. Similar increases were observed for young adults aged 18-24 years, with the proportion of people currently using vapes nearly quadrupling from 5.6% in 2020 to 21.4% in 2022. Over the same time period, children aged 14-17 years who currently smoke increased from 4.8% in 2020 to 6.7% in 2022, with the most recent data from 2023 indicating that more than 12% of children aged 14-17 years smoke. This marks the first time in over 20 years that smoking rates have increased in this age group.¹⁵

Given these statistics and the fact that according to the City of Fremantle's 2023 Health and Wellbeing profile 10.3% of the Fremantle community smokes, Cancer Council WA urges you to ensure smoking and vaping are a priority topic in the PHP.

Ways that the City of Fremantle can tackle the reduction and prevention of smoking and vaping include creating smoke-free and vape-free environments including town centres; community events sponsored, funded or organised by local government, and all local government owned buildings, facilities and areas. By way of example:

- in the last three years City of Vincent has successfully implemented smoke and vape free town centres in five locations through a mix of community consultation and education and by enacting local laws;
- the City of Albany requires city-run outdoor events be smoke free;
- the City of Armadale has a policy prohibiting smoking within five metres of doorways and 10 metres of air intake vents of council-owned or managed buildings and includes smoke free clauses into their agreements for use.³

More actions and detail are set out in our Local Governments, Public Health and Cancer Prevention Guide.³

Policies, planning and development

It is our view that local governments benefit the most from PHPs when they embed public health into their policies and planning processes. City of Fremantle could do this by having an overarching statement within its PHP stating that its role includes prioritising and embedding public health into its policies and planning processes. An example of where this has been done, and works well, is in the City of Vincent where their progressive PHP has led to public health matters being advanced as a matter of priority within policy development.

There is considerable overlap between issues of public health and planning and development. Planning and development decisions can have a significant impact on public health. For example, they determine access to and availability of unhealthy food, drink, and alcohol, exposure to secondhand tobacco smoke and UV radiation, as well the ability to support active living.

The Sustainable Health Review (2019)¹⁶ has a recommendation priority to 'change planning laws to limit unhealthy food outlets and support access to healthy food options, including near schools'. Similarly, the Western Australian Health Promotion Strategic Framework 2022-2026¹⁷ states that consideration of the impact on public health and wellbeing should be considered in regulations, policies and local planning decisions that affect land use.

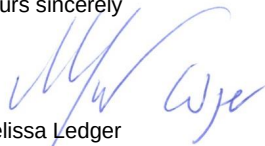

Public health risks, for example, related to proposed unhealthy food and drink outlets, especially those with drive through facilities, liquor stores and tobacconists should be considered in planning and development processes. It is important that local governments consider the mechanisms available to them (and any changes to legislation, regulations and frameworks that may be required) to ensure that public health is considered in planning and development approval processes at all levels. While Cancer Council WA understands the current limitations on local governments in relation to considering public health with regard to planning approval processes we urge the City of Fremantle to consider stronger local planning schemes that ensure sensitive land uses (such as schools and child care premises) are protected from the nearby development of food outlets with drive through, liquor outlets and tobacconists as a minimum. Where these unhealthy land uses are not prohibited, development applications for these land uses should at least be subject to advertising and community consultation to ensure transparency and enable community input given the impact these developments have on the community. Future proofing local planning schemes is essential to create a healthy and supportive built environment for the people of the City of Fremantle.

Once again, thank you for providing Cancer Council WA the opportunity to outline our recommendations for the City of Fremantle's PHP. Before you lies an opportunity to put the health and wellbeing of the residents of the City of Fremantle at the centre of the City's decision making. We look forward to watching your PHP progress, and working with staff and Councillors in the future.

Please contact Jane Abbott, Legal Policy Advisor on Jane.Abbott@cancerwa.asn.au should you wish to discuss or if you would like further information.

To Whom It May Concern,

Re: Community Survey - Public Health Plan | Concerns Regarding Illegal Vapes In Fremantle

I'm writing on behalf of our over 350 Fremantle Chamber of Commerce members, who are deeply alarmed by the proliferation of retailers selling illegal tobacco and vapes in Fremantle. This also extends to the sale of nitrous oxide products and other such drug paraphernalia.

This has enabled a troubling public health trend of young people frequenting these establishments after school hours and many other unwanted visitors.

As a community, we are steadfast in our commitment to fostering an environment that prioritises health and well-being. The increasing visibility and accessibility of illegal vape products in our city, particularly frequented by minors, pose a direct threat to this mission. It is well-documented that vaping has significant health risks, especially for adolescents, and the normalisation of such behaviour in our community is unacceptable.

Our members have expressed grave concerns about the laxity in current regulations governing and policing the illegal sales of vaping substances, accessories, and devices (with or without nicotine) from a variety of Fremantle convenience stores, even lolly shops.

These establishments often exploit loopholes, allowing them to market harmful products in ways that appeal to younger demographics. This is not only unethical but also deeply detrimental to the long-term health of our community.

We believe that Fremantle's future should be one where such establishments are no longer part of our community.

We envision a city that champions the health and development of its youth, free from the influence of industries that prioritize profit over well-being.

We trust you will give this matter the urgency it deserves and look forward to your response outlining the steps the Public Health Plan will take to address these concerns.

Should you require further information or wish to discuss this matter in more detail, please do not hesitate to contact me directly.

Thank you for your attention to this critical public health issue.

Sincerely,

Wanjoo Nidja Walyalup – Whadjuk Land. Welcome, this is Fremantle, Whadjuk land.

In the Nyoongar language the Fremantle area is called Walyalup, meaning place of the Walyo or Woylie, a small brush-tailed bettong or kangaroo rat. The local Whadjuk people, part of the larger Nyoongar Aboriginal nation in the south west of Western Australia, have a connection to country that dates back over 50,000 years.

Manjaree is the name Whadjuk people gave to the area around Fremantle, near the limestone hill at Arthur Head and Bathers Beach. In the local Whadjuk dialect it translates to 'fair exchange'. The Manjaree Trail, starting near Kidogo Arthouse, explains Nyoongar seasons, bush tucker, trade, and other customs relevant to Manjaree. Sites along this trail are of tremendous importance to the Whadjuk people as they were places where valuable items were traded, families gathered for kinship and law making, and where young men and women who had 'come of age' met their future husbands and wives. While some of the sacred meeting places in and around Walyalup look very different in the present day, they still hold significance for local Whadjuk people.

The City of Fremantle acknowledges the Whadjuk people as the Traditional Owners of the great Fremantle / Walyalup area and we recognise that the cultural and heritage beliefs are still important today.

Introduction

Health and wellbeing are fundamental to a thriving, connected and resilient community. The City of Fremantle Community Health and Wellbeing Plan 2026 to 2031 provides the strategic framework for protecting, promoting and improving the health of people who live, work and visit Fremantle.

Prepared in accordance with the Public Health Act 2016, this Plan aligns with the WA State Public Health Plan 2025 to 2030 and integrates with the City's Strategic Community Plan and supporting strategies. It reflects a whole-of-Council commitment to ensuring Fremantle remains a healthy, inclusive and liveable city.

Local health data demonstrates that while Fremantle residents experience high overall wellbeing, several significant challenges require coordinated action. These include lower-than-target immunisation rates, elevated suicide and self-harm rates, high levels of alcohol-related risk, visible homelessness and housing stress, and ongoing environmental health pressures.

The Plan has been shaped by community engagement and evidence-based analysis. Over 600 community interactions and formal submissions informed the identification of six priority areas:

1. Creating a sense of belonging for all members of the community
2. Minimising harm from alcohol, drugs and tobacco including vaping
3. Addressing homelessness and housing access
4. Ensuring safe access to community and the local environment
5. Promoting and providing physical activity opportunities including access to affordable food
6. Protecting the community from public and environmental health risks

The City will deliver this Plan through five guiding principles: Promote, Protect, Prevent, People Focused and Partner. Actions are organised across three domains: Information, Service Delivery and Advocacy.

Implementation will occur through the Corporate Business Plan with annual reporting to Council. A mid-term review will be undertaken in 2027, with a final evaluation in 2029 to measure progress against health indicators and strategic objectives.

Through collaboration with community, government and service partners, this Plan seeks to strengthen social connection, reduce preventable harm and support every person in Fremantle to achieve optimal quality of life.

The City's Role

The City of Fremantle has a long history of delivering services that support the community to thrive. We provide many programs and activities for people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities. We also develop and maintain infrastructure, provide advocacy, data profiles for our community and funding; and partner with health service providers, government bodies, community groups and local residents to ensure we combine our efforts to support strong health and wellbeing outcomes for everyone.

To ensure that we can support every person in Fremantle to live a healthy, inclusive and resilient life, the City's guiding principles to actioning the priority areas, will be a combination of themed actions from the City's Community Strategic Plan and the State Public Health Plan 2025-2030. These guiding principles include:

- PROMOTE: The city will enable healthy and liveable environments
- PROTECT: Communities will be protected against public and environmental health risks
- PREVENT: Communities will be enabled to be resilient and empowered to lead healthy lives
- PEOPLE FOCUSED: The City will provide inclusive opportunities for people to lead healthy lives
- PARTNERS: Councils, communities and partners will work together to achieve evidence-based public health outcomes

Strategic Alignment

Prepared in accordance with the Public Health Act 2016, this Plan aligns with the WA State Public Health Plan 2025 to 2030 and integrates with the City's Strategic Community Plan and supporting strategies. It reflects a whole-of-Council commitment to ensuring Fremantle remains a healthy, inclusive and liveable city.

The plan will reaffirm the City's commitments outlined in the 2024 to 2034 Strategic Community Plan, particularly the following key focus areas:

- Liveable City: A liveable city that is vibrant, socially connected and desirable
- Resilient City: A resilient city that plans for the future and is empowered to action.
- Inclusive City: an inclusive city that welcomes, celebrates and cares for all people, cultures and abilities.

The actions in the Public Health Plan will be reported annually through the Corporate Business Plan. The plan will have a mid-term review in 2028 and a final evaluation in 2030.

Completion of actions in the Public Health Action Plan below will be used to track progress of the Public Health Plan. As actions are completed and the Plan is reviewed against the needs of the community, the City of Fremantle Health and Wellbeing profile will be used as one evaluation tool to track the effectiveness of the Plan, considering how to formulate actions to better impact the identified priorities and to redirect the Plan with any changes to identified priorities in plan updates. Other evaluation tools may include surveys completed by the City, such as homelessness surveys.

City of Fremantle Health and Wellbeing Profile

The Fremantle Health and Wellbeing Profile 2015-2024¹⁰ provides detailed information on the demographic makeup and key health and wellbeing data for Fremantle's population. The following data provided by the South Metropolitan Public Health Unit¹ illustrates a snapshot of the key health and wellbeing issues for Fremantle.

Our Community

Fremantle, known as Walyalup in Noongar language, is a vibrant community that is now home to approximately 37,542 people² spanning a range of cultures, ages and household types. Fremantle is a pedestrian-friendly, age friendly and environmentally responsible city, and has been described as the most eclectic and spirited seaside destination in the world.³

Key Demographics

The most common countries of birth outside Australia are England, Italy and New Zealand, and 2.3% (752) of residents are Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander. Fremantle has a higher than WA average for people aged 50 years and over and has 1.6 times more tertiary qualified people when compared to the WA average. Couples without children (45%) are the most common type of household, followed by couples with children households (37%).⁴

Key Health Indicators

- Fremantle has the lowest immunisation coverage rates in the Perth South Primary Health Network (PHN) area, with only 91.7% of children fully vaccinated at 1 year, 88.3% at 2 years, and 91.6% at 5 years.⁵ Herd immunity is reached when the vaccination rate reaches 95%.

- Fremantle has suicide and self-harm rates above both the State rate and the rate for Perth South PHN.⁶ In 2021, 12% of Fremantle residents were accessing a GP regarding a mental health care plan.⁷
- Fremantle has the highest proportion of people with a diagnosis of hepatitis C (1.5%) in the Perth South

Proportion of common mental health conditions reported in 2024

- PHN⁸, and higher than the national average of 0.66%.⁹
- The percentage of residents in Fremantle at greatest risk of long-term harm from alcohol consumption is 33.7%, which is over the State average (29.1%).¹⁰

Alcohol causes the greatest number of preventable hospitalisations

Crime rates in Fremantle has remained reasonably consistent over the past decade. In 2016, 4003 reported offences were recorded for the City, compared with 4026 reported offences in 2024¹¹.

Summary

Fremantle residents enjoy a high level of health and wellbeing when compared to the Western Australian average, but there is a range of key preventive health, environmental and lifestyle factors that have wide-reaching effects on a significant proportion of our population. To provide the best opportunities to promote health and reduce the burden of disease, we need to increase active lifestyles and healthy eating, alcohol and tobacco-free living, social connection, address homelessness and safety.

Community and Stakeholder Engagement

The Public Health plan was developed in line with the City's Community Engagement Policy. A public engagement plan designed around the IAP2 Spectrum of Public Participation Framework¹², was developed and aimed to:

- Involve people who live, work, or play in the City of Fremantle to contribute feedback and experiences in the development of a new public health plan.
- Educate the public on the benefits and uses of a public health plan.
- Develop a public health plan that meets the needs of the Fremantle community and aligns with State government obligations.

Community consultation strategies included an online survey on My Say Freo, which is the City's existing engagement platform; links to the survey on the City's social media sites and newsletter, direct email to over 3000 residents registered on the City's engagement network and a review of the Let's Talk Freo data generated in 2024.

Stakeholder consultation was conducted via an online survey with relevant people in the City, links to the survey in the City's This Is Business (TIB) newsletter program that reaches local businesses in the City Centre and through local media.

Both surveys asked a series of questions that examined social connection and the positive aspects of living in Fremantle; issues and concerns affecting wellbeing, as well as satisfaction levels with the existing facilities, programs, infrastructure, public amenity and services offered in Fremantle that enhance or support health and wellbeing.

The public engagement program reached 633 people through face-to-face conversations and online visits to the City's MySay portal. The City also received 49 formal submissions via its public engagement program.

In late August 2025, a priority setting workshop was held, which aimed to gain consensus on the top five issues to be included in the City's Public Health Plan. A total of 21 people attended the workshop and included Elected Members, interest holders, CoF staff members and community members. This workshop presented the top 10 issues identified in the consultation (there were 13 issues presented as 3 issues were allocated the same score) and participants were able to discuss these issues, combine any and pitch for inclusion of any issues that were not included in the top 13. A nominal group process was used to identify the top six priorities, and these issues were further ratified by the Council.

Our Priorities

The priority issues for the Public Health Plan were identified through an evidence and community informed process.

The public health priorities identified are:

1. Creating a sense of belonging for all members of the community
2. Minimising harm from alcohol, drugs and tobacco including vaping
3. Addressing homelessness and housing access
4. Ensuring safe access to community and the local environment
5. Promoting and providing physical activity opportunities including access to affordable food
6. Protecting the community from public and environmental health risks

The Public Health Plan will align all actions under these key priorities to provide a long-term strategic approach to address health and wellbeing issues and achieve health outcomes for every individual to achieve optimum 'quality of life'. Three domains to inform the actions will provide the strategic direction for the promotion of public health within the City. These domains are:

In pursuing these key themes and domains, the City of Fremantle will build on its long history of delivering services that support the community to be healthy and thrive. These include the provision of programs and activities for people of all ages, backgrounds and abilities, the development and maintenance of infrastructure, provision of local funding, and our partnerships with other service providers, government bodies, community groups and residents to ensure efforts are combined to support strong health and wellbeing outcomes for everyone.

Public Health Action Plan

The following action plan highlights a wide range of activities that can help realise the City's public health objectives. In most cases, the City is already conducting many of the actions listed below. There are some areas where the City may explore starting new initiatives or partnering with existing ones.

Council Policy

Seasonal Trading Seasonal and Temporary Trading

Seasonal and Temporary Trading

Policy scope

This policy applies to temporary trading activity that takes place at approved locations within the City of Fremantle.

This policy outlines how the City will enable the delivery of these activities, and how consistent and transparent decisions will be made.

This policy applies to the operation of the sale of goods and services, and the operation of mobile food vendors trucks and/or vans.

This policy does not apply to the operation of promotional stalls, fundraising activities, busking, saunas, or events.

This policy does not apply to the operation of food trucks or vans, promotional stalls, fundraising activities, busking, or events.

Policy statement

This policy aims to enable ~~public seasonal and temporary~~ trading activity \(including mobile food vendor trading\) to occur across the City of Fremantle and provides a framework to determine ~~the~~ suitability of ~~mobile traders each business~~ at approved trading locations.

Any use of public land should minimise disruption to the everyday use and should provide a benefit to the community.

The objectives of this policy are to:

- Allow for the operation of trading activities in a manner that does not interfere or conflict with the City's permanent retail, hospitality and service traders.
- Fill a gap in the market by providing tourism and recreation related services that are not already available.
- Ensure that ~~mobile seasonal and temporary~~ trading activity is appropriate for the area and does not cause any nuisance to the surrounding residents or businesses.
- Ensure the amenity of the area is protected while enhancing the vibrancy of the area.
- Encourage visitors to the City and contribute to Fremantle's destination brand.
- Promote equitable use of land with a focus on community benefit.

- Provide opportunity for small businesses to trial ~~a new business model~~ Fremantle as a place to invest and locate their businesses over the longer term.

Guiding Principles

The Seasonal & Temporary Trading Program follows a set of guiding principles which forms the criteria for assessing applications. These guiding principles will deliver the best outcome for the community, visitors, and traders. Traders who wish to apply for a seasonal trading permit must ensure their proposed activity is aligned with the following criteria:

1. Accessibility

Trading activity should be integrated into the location in a way that doesn't compromise existing uses, access, and pedestrian safety.

2. Unique, Distinctive, Diverse and Engaging

Trading activity should create interesting and diverse activity to encourage people to stay longer in Fremantle. It should fill a gap in the market and have a tourist appeal with a variety and range of products, services and activities that are complementary to the location.

3. Safety

Trading activity must be compliant, mobile (ability to be removed within 12 hours), and should create a comfortable and safe ambience for the community and not compromise the public amenity.

Activities should be non-invasive and respectful, should improve the environment, and promote accessible places that encourage a feeling of safety and community participation.

4. Attractive and High Quality

The design and appearance of infrastructure or equipment associated with trading activity should complement Fremantle's character and the streetscape of the location.

Activities should be innovative and vibrant, be structurally sound and should create a seamless and attractive addition to the location.

5. Sustainable

Trading activity must be environmentally sustainable and integrate environmentally friendly practices in their operations where possible.

6. Suitable

Trading activity must be considered suitable and acceptable in relation to its public appeal and amenity. Criteria such as degree of quality, frequency, noise levels, risk management and other potential or dangerous goods will be assessed in relation to the suitability of the trading activity.

Seasonal and Temporary Trading Schedule

Seasonal and Temporary trading permits are issued seasonally according to the application schedule below. Applicants must apply by completing and submitting an application form prior to the closing dates for the desired permit period.

Application & Approval Process

Trading applications will open on a seasonal basis as per the seasonal schedule through an expression of interest (EOI) process.

Applications must meet the guiding principles to be selected and progress to receive trading approval.

Stage 1 – EOI Process

The EOI process will be used to competitively seek a broad range of traders for each season.

Outside of the EOI process, if there are trading locations that are available, occasional trading can be approved through the same approval process.

Applications will be assessed based on how they demonstrate that they meet the guiding principles and further assessment is undertaken to ensure an appropriate, diverse mix of trading activity is delivered.

Once trading applications have been selected, each trader will be required to follow the City’s approval process.

Stage 2 – Operational Assessment

At this stage, the operations of the trader are assessed and required documentation and plans are submitted. This is to ensure the trading activity will be safe and will have the desired impact for the City and the community.

During this stage:

- All documentation is received, reviewed, and approved by all relevant internal stakeholders.
- Relevant external stakeholders are notified.

Stage 3 — Trading Approval and Payment

During this stage:

- Trading approval is granted.

Guiding Principles

Seasonal trading activity must be consistent with the City's vision Fremantle: a destination city, and the City's This Is Fremantle brand values of spirit, soul, and sea.

Traders who wish to apply for a seasonal trading permit must ensure their proposed activity is aligned with the following criteria:

1- Accessibility

Trading activity should be integrated into the location in a way that doesn't compromise existing uses, access, and pedestrian safety.

2- Unique, Distinctive, Diverse and Engaging

Trading activity should create interesting and diverse activity to encourage people to stay longer in Fremantle. It should fill a gap in the market and have a tourist appeal with a variety and range of products, services and activities that are complementary to the location.

3- Safety

Trading activity must be compliant, mobile (ability to be removed within 12 hours), should create comfortable and safe ambience for the community and not compromise the public amenity.

Activities should be non-invasive and respectful, should improve the environment and promote accessible places that encourage a feeling of safety and community participation.

4- Attractive and High Quality

The design and appearance of infrastructure or equipment associated with trading activity should complement Fremantle's character and the streetscape of the location.

Activities should be innovative and vibrant, be structurally sound and should create a seamless and attractive addition to the location.

5- Sustainable

Trading activity must be environmentally sustainable and integrate environmentally friendly practices in their operations.

6- Suitable

Trading activity must be considered suitable and acceptable in relation to its public appeal and amenity. Criteria such as evidence of quality, noise levels, risk management and the use of dangerous goods will be assessed in relation to the suitability of the trading activity.

Trial Locations

Where officers determine that a location is suitable and appropriate for ~~Temporary pop-up~~ ~~Trading~~, the CEO may approve its inclusion in the ~~Pop-Up Temporary Trading Program~~ for a trial period of up to 12 months.

This trial period will be used to assess the location's feasibility for permanent inclusion in the policy. Where the location continues to be assessed as suitable and appropriate following the trial, Council approval will be required to add the location to the policy on a permanent basis.

Vacant Locations

Where a trader wishes to apply for a vacant trading location outside of the formal Expression of Interest (EOI) timeframes, Officers may consider and approve the application based on the suitability of the proposed activity and alignment with the objectives of the ~~Pop-Up Temporary Trading Program~~.

Any approval granted outside the EOI process will apply only to the current trading period and will not create an ongoing entitlement to the location. Suitability assessments will consider factors such as site capacity, amenity impacts, existing trader mix, and the overall benefit to the community.

Definitions and abbreviations

Seasonal or ~~Occasional~~ Temporary Trading – Any temporary selling activity in a public place using temporary infrastructure that can be removed within 12 hours.

Mobile Food Vendor - A mobile business that sells food or beverages from a vehicle, trailer or cart, using infrastructure that can be set up and removed within a short period and is not fixed to the site.

SEASONAL & TEMPORARY TRADING IN FREMANTLE

Fremantle is Western Australia's most creative, dynamic, and entrepreneurial city. Come and explore the exciting opportunities to trade, create and grow your business through the City of Fremantle's Seasonal & Temporary Trading Program.

Designed for innovative and short-term activations that bring our public spaces to life, and supporting mobile food vendors serving exceptional culinary experiences across key locations.

These programs give passionate entrepreneurs, artists, and food visionaries the chance to engage with Fremantle's thriving visitor economy and contribute to the city's renowned creative energy.

Whether you're launching a new concept or expanding an established business, Trading in Fremantle offers the platform, audience, and support to succeed.

What is Seasonal & Temporary Trading?

Any short term or temporary selling activity in a public place. Typically, this involves temporary infrastructure that is removed from the public space at the end of trade each day.

There are number of iconic sites across Fremantle which are suitable to accommodate Seasonal & Temporary trading by both business ventures and mobile food vendors with each site offering different opportunities. We are looking for exciting and innovative businesses to bring new ideas to life across some of Fremantle's most iconic locations.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The Seasonal & Temporary Trading Program follows a set of guiding principles which forms the criteria for assessing applications. These guiding principles will deliver the best outcome for the community, visitors, and traders.

We are looking for:

- Sustainable businesses that are self-sufficient with power, water, and waste
- Trading that focusses on leisure/ recreation activity
- Suitable businesses that fill a gap in the market and enhance the visitor experience
- Businesses that align with the City of Fremantle's brand values of spirit, soul and sea.
- Businesses that don't directly compete with established businesses in the local area.

APPLICATION CRITERIA

Traders who wish to apply for a Seasonal or Temporary trading permit must ensure their proposed activity is aligned with the following weighted criteria:

1. ACCESSIBILITY (15%)

Trading activity should be integrated into the location in a way that doesn't compromise existing uses, access, and pedestrian safety.

2. UNIQUE, DISTINCTIVE, DIVERSE AND ENGAGING (15%)

Trading activity should create interesting and diverse activity to encourage people to stay longer in Fremantle. It should fill a gap in the market and have a tourist appeal with a variety and range of products, services, hospitality and/or activities that are complementary to the location.

3. SAFETY (20%)

Trading activity must be compliant, mobile (ability to be removed within 12 hours), should create comfortable and safe ambience for the community and not compromise the public amenity. Trading activity should be non-invasive and respectful, should improve the environment and promote accessible places that encourage a feeling of safety and community participation.

4. ATTRACTIVE AND HIGH QUALITY (15%)

The design and appearance of infrastructure or equipment associated with trading activity should complement Fremantle's character and the streetscape of the location. Activities should be innovative and vibrant, be structurally sound and should create a seamless and attractive addition to the location.

5. SUSTAINABLE (20%)

Trading activity must be environmentally sustainable and integrate environmentally friendly practices in their operations.

6. SUITABLE (15%)

Trading activity must be considered suitable and acceptable in relation to its public appeal and amenity. Criteria such as evidence of quality, noise levels, risk management and the use of dangerous goods will be assessed in relation to the suitability of the trading activity.

SNAPSHOT OF FREMANTLE

Fremantle is the most eclectic and spirited seaside destination in the world. It's a maritime city with spirit and soul, full of vibrancy, colour and culture.

SNAPSHOT OF FREMANTLE

By joining the Seasonal & Temporary Trading Program, you're not just setting up shop, you're joining a city that celebrates creativity, independence, and innovation. Below is a snapshot of what is available in Fremantle, the support we bring to the table, and what to expect after setting up your seasonal trading business:

VISITATION

Fremantle welcomes over 1M visitors each year, reflecting its appeal as a leisure destination and global reputation. In 2025 Fremantle was named Australia's Top Tourism Town.

CRUISE

30 cruise ships are scheduled to dock at Fremantle Port each year, bringing thousands of visitors directly into the city. Cruise passengers are transported into Fremantle via a free shuttle, ensuring easy access to local businesses and attractions.

DESTINATION MARKETING

Fremantle is promoted through a destination marketing strategy delivered under the City's "This is Fremantle" brand and includes a tourism website with free business listings, and marketing campaigns.

EVENTS

Major events and festivals play a key role in enhancing Fremantle's vibrancy and attracting visitors throughout the year. Flagship events such as the Fremantle International Street Arts Festival, Fremantle Festival and 10 Nights in Port significantly boost visitation.

VISITOR CENTRE

Fremantle is home to a world-class visitor centre located next to Town Hall which serves as a key entry point for tourists. The centre provides comprehensive information on neighbourhoods, attractions and experiences across the city.

ACTIVATIONS

The City delivers a year-round program of activities to activate public spaces and support local businesses. School holiday activations have successfully dispersed visitors across Fremantle and attracted up to 10,000 families.

PARTNERSHIPS & ADVOCACY

The City partners with key stakeholders and local businesses to strengthen the 'This is Fremantle' brand through campaigns and activations, an approach recognised with double gold at the 2022 Tourism Awards.

HERITAGE

Fremantle is rich in heritage, home to a UNESCO World Heritage-listed site, Fremantle Prison. The city also features more than 100-year-old markets, heritage streetscapes and historic shopfronts that continue to attract visitors and contribute to its distinctive character.

ACCOMMODATION

Fremantle offers a diverse accommodation mix, including newly refurbished boutique hotels, traditional Australian pubs and larger properties catering to a range of visitor needs. Together, this mix showcases the city's character and history, encouraging visitors to extend their stay and fully experience Fremantle.

READY TO START TRADING?

Trading applications will open on a seasonal basis as per the schedule below through an expression of interest (EOI) process. Applications must meet the guiding principles to be selected and progress to receive trading approval.

ARE YOU A BUSINESS WITH A NEW IDEA?

Bring Your Business to Life Outdoors

Seasonal & Temporary Trading allows small businesses, artists, and entrepreneurs to activate Fremantle's beautiful public spaces with temporary, high-quality, temporary experiences.

If you have a great idea from outdoor recreation hire to creative retail, this program gives you the platform to trial, grow, and showcase your concept in high-traffic areas across Fremantle.

What We're Looking For

We're seeking vibrant, sustainable, and self-sufficient ventures that:

- Offer something unique and engaging;
- Complement Fremantle's lifestyle and character;
- Enhance the visitor experience; and
- Align with Fremantle's Spirit, Soul and Sea values.

Note - we are no longer taking applications for saunas as part of this program.

How businesses can apply

Seasonal & Temporary business trading permits are issued seasonally according to the application schedule below. Applicants must apply by completing and submitting an application form prior to the closing dates for the desired permit period. If you are a mobile food vendor, please read on to the next page.*

Join the Fremantle Story

- Trading in Fremantle is your chance to do business differently, test ideas, reach new audiences, and shape the city's vibrant culture.

All traders must:

- Have a valid registration to trade within the City of Fremantle
- Hold valid public liability insurance
- Comply with the Food Act 2008 and health regulations (if selling food)
- Manage noise, waste, and power responsibly
- Maintain an active online presence
- Remove all litter and leave sites clean

TRADING LOCATIONS

There are a number of sites available for Seasonal & Temporary trading activity. Each site offers opportunities for different business activity to take place. There are some sites able to accommodate multiple traders and are outlined throughout this document.

We recommend visiting any location you are interested in before submitting your application. Generally sites are open from 7am - 9pm.

Some sites are suitable for all year-round trading whereas others we think are only right for summer trading activity.

Have a look what other businesses are in close proximity, remembering that one of our guiding principles – unique, distinctive, diverse & engaging, states we are looking for trading activity that fills a gap in the market rather than competing with established local businesses.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

All assets are initially recognised at cost. Cost is determined as the fair value of the assets given as consideration plus costs incidental to the acquisition. For assets acquired at no cost or for nominal consideration, cost is determined as fair value at the date of acquisition. The cost of non-current assets constructed by the local government includes the cost of all materials used in the construction, direct labour on the project and an appropriate proportion of variable and fixed overhead. Certain asset classes may be revalued on a regular basis such that the carrying values are not materially different from fair value. Assets carried at fair value are to be revalued with sufficient regularity to ensure the carrying amount does not differ materially from that determined using fair value at reporting date.

Parking Dividend Equalisation Reserve
Reserve Purpose:
To provide a smoothing out of revenue contributions to municipal operations from commercial parking activities. That is to be achieved as follows (a) by transferring net profits in excess of budget to the reserve and (b) if required, when there is a material (i.e. plus 1%) net loss, transferring funds from the reserve to municipal fund to compensate the loss. Fund commercial parking capital equipment and facilities or parking infringement capital equipment and facilities to the extent the funds available in the reserve exceed 2.5% of budgeted gross parking revenue. Provide temporary funding to the City for its initial contribution to the Hilton Underground Power project. This funding will be returned to the Reserve annually via a service levy on residential consumers within the Hilton Underground Power project.
Source of Income:
Transfer from the Municipal Fund (a) net profit on commercial parking operations exceeding a set figure in the budget. Note: Net profit is calculated including depreciation and allocated support service costs but excludes capital. and/or (b) Transfer from the Municipal Fund amounts determined by Council through the annual budget or budget review in relation to parking operations. PREPARATION TIMING AND REVIEW

Prepared by: Financial Accountant
Reviewed by: Financial Accounting Team Leader

BASIS OF PREPARATION

REPORT PURPOSE

This report is prepared to meet the requirements of Local Government (Financial Management) Regulations 1996, Regulation 34 . Note: The Statements and accompanying notes are prepared based on all transactions recorded at the time of preparation and may vary due to transactions being processed for the reporting period after the date of preparation.

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

This statement comprises a special purpose financial report which has been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (as they apply to local governments and not-for-profit entities), Australian Accounting Interpretations, other authoritative pronouncements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board, the Local Government Act 1995 and accompanying regulations. Material accounting policies which have been adopted in the preparation of this statement are presented below and have been consistently applied unless stated otherwise. Except for cash flow and rate setting information, the report has also been prepared on the accrual basis and is based on historical costs, modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and liabilities.

THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT REPORTING ENTITY

All Funds through which the Council controls resources to carry on its functions have been included in this statement. In the process of reporting on the local government as a single unit, all transactions and balances between those funds (for example, loans and transfers between Funds) have been eliminated. All monies held in the Trust Fund are excluded from the statement, but a separate statement of those monies appears at Note 6.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICES

GOODS AND SERVICES TAX

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO is included with receivables or payables in the statement of financial position. Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO are presented as operating cash flows.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

The preparation of a financial report in conformity with Australian Accounting Standards requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that effect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances; the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

ROUNDING OFF FIGURES

All figures shown in this statement are rounded to the nearest dollar.

NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF FINANCIAL ACTIVITY
FOR THE PERIOD ENDED 31 MARCH 2026

INFORMATION
NET CURRENT ASSETS

CURRENT AND NON-CURRENT CLASSIFICATION

In the determination of whether an asset or liability is current or non-current, consideration is given to the time when each asset or liability is expected to be settled. The asset or liability is classified as current if it is expected to be settled within the next 12 months, being the Council's operational cycle. In the case of liabilities where Council does not have the unconditional right to defer settlement beyond 12 months, such as vested long service leave, the liability is classified as current even if not expected to be settled within the next 12 months. Inventories held for trading are classified as current even if not expected to be realised in the next 12 months except for land held for resale where it is held as non current based on Council's intentions to release for sale.

EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

The provisions for employee benefits relates to amounts expected to be paid for long service leave, annual leave, wages and salaries and are calculated as follows:

(i) Wages, Salaries, Annual Leave and Long Service Leave
(Short-term Benefits)

The provision for employees' benefits to wages, salaries, annual leave and long service leave expected to be settled within 12 months represents the amount the City has a present obligation to pay resulting from employees services provided to balance date. The provision has been calculated at nominal amounts based on remuneration rates the City expects to pay and includes related on-costs.

(ii) Annual Leave and Long Service Leave (Long-term Benefits)

The liability for long service leave is recognised in the provision for employee benefits and measured as the present value of expected future payments to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date using the project unit credit method. Consideration is given to expected future wage and salary levels, experience of employee departures and periods of service. Expected future payments are discounted using market yields at the reporting date on national government bonds with terms to maturity and currency that match as closely as possible, the estimated future cash outflows. Where the City does not have the unconditional right to defer settlement beyond 12 months, the liability is recognised as a current liability.

PROVISIONS

Provisions are recognised when: The council has a present legal or constructive obligation as a result of past events; it is more likely than not that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation; and the amount has been reliably estimated. Provisions are not recognised for future operating losses. Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow will be required in settlement is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. A provision is recognised even if the likelihood of an outflow with respect to any one of item included in the same class of obligations may be small.

INVENTORIES

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

- Targeted around local history etc.
- Europe can wait campaigns
- Lean into our brands of local experience (Hidden cafes, Bathers Beach, relaxed experiences.)
- Highlight safe and friend location
- KH advised that we should lean into the most walkable, rideable public transport City in Western Australia.
- PM suggested the Europe can wait campaign and should lean more towards current campaigns and images etc.
- All DDWG members agreed that any staycation campaign should avoid any direct/indirect references to Europe travel disruptions or Middle East conflict
- TB provided insights around Europe travellers. High value travellers still going to travel its more the low-mid tier traveller this is affecting
- KJ has meet with flight centre and they are having less cancelations and more of re-directing of flights
- Perth market is the one that we should be targeting
- Summary – Lose the Europe can wait lean into Your Next Holiday is closer than you think
- concern is drop off on spend after easter. – Thinks the change in liquor licensing laws will assist in eater trade
- Bikes, foot and train angle is a good option to lean into. Carvan parking spaces, additional bike rakes. Bike plan that expired last year only 5% was delivered
- KCross selling and packages are the way to go. Visibility will be important, building the brand. Gray Nomads market can't leave out caravan parks to experience Fremantle. – packages with caravan parks
- Bridge thing a non-event for them. Corporate drop off and cancellations – packages are filling weekends however not helping with weekday traffic.
- thinks shift in international to intra/interstate. Fuel costs are a big concern for them. Still operating a full schedule. Have asked if they will be adding costs to tickets. – No increases in costs will be passed on. Reducing schedule 18th April, seasonal change as per normal. However, if it gets more expensive will look at reducing further. Policy in place for bookings after a certain date around cancellations. State Gov may request people to WFH. Winter campaign with Rottnest coming out as per usual.
- easter will be really good this year. Excited to see what happens over that weekend. Have noticed a drop off on lunch trade and less people during the day.
- anticipating a downturn. Interstate market is the lowest market, biggest drop will be in the 40% international market. Opportunity to focus on the local market.
- Need to time the market just after Easter.
